PRIVATE SHIRICK KILLED IN ACTION

Popular Kingston Boy Reported Killed on July 23—Served on Mexican Border and Enlisted When War Broke Out—Was Wounded Once.

Private George F. Shirick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eustace Shirick, of No. 178 Downs street, was killed in action "Somewhere in France" on July 23, according to word received by his parents late Thursday afternoon. The telegram was delivered just as the family was preparing for supper.

Private Shirick was one of the most popular of the Kingston boys in the service. He was 24 years old. For three years he attended Kingston Academy and then took up a business course at Eastman's Business College in Poughkeepsie, and on completing the course was employed at the Kingston plant of Armour & Company. Later he was transferred to Newburgh and from there to Waterbury, Conn., where he was working for the company when the Mexican trouble arose, and he enlisted in a Connecticut regiment and saw five months' service on the Mexican border.

At the close of the Mexican trouble he was honorably discharged from the army and returned to Waterbury, where he assumed his former position with Armour & Company. When Germany forced this country into war he immediately re-enlisted and some time later was sent across. In April he was reported as wounded in action, and was confined to an army hospital for some time. When he recovered from his wound he was sent back to the front and rejoined his old company.

The last letter received from Private Shirick by his parents was written in June and told of his having been selected as a sharpshooter, and told his mother not to worry. He wrote that he enjoyed his new work and was glad to be back in the active fighting again.

The news of the death of Private Shirick was received with regret in Kingston by his host of friends, as he was an exceedingly popular young man and bore a high reputation both in business and private life. He was the youngest child of the family.

Private Shirick was a member of the 101st Infantry, 26th Division, Light Infantry.

Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Catherine and Elizabeth, both of Peter Crough, and four brothers, John, Schirick of Utica, Valentine E. and Harry E. Schirick of this city. Private Shirick's family have the sympathy of all in the gallant death of their youngest son.

KINGSTON BOYS LIKE TO FIGHT

Can't Wait Until They Reach Age Required, But Run Away and Enlist—Leo Sessler and John Witkowski Now in Service.

Age proves no bar to the lure of the Great Adventure in the hearts of some of Kingston's boys, and if they can't get in the army any other way they run away and enlist under another name. Kingston not only breeds heroes, but it breeds boys of fine physical proportions even if they have not reached the 18 years required before they can be accepted for army service.

Leo Sessler, 16 years old, the son of Jacob Sessler of Murray street, wanted to see service "somewhere in France," and as he was under age he ran away and enlisted under the name of Edward P. Smith, and is now at Camp Wadsworth, or as the last time he was heard from.

Leo is a well built young man, and appears much older than he really is. The birth records at the city hall show that Leo was born December 27, 1901.

A Freeman reporter called at the Sessler home today to have a talk with the young man's father, but found Mr. Sessler out of town for the day.

From what could be learned, the father, when he heard from his son, secured the lad's birth certificate and has forwarded it to Washington. He has no desire to have his son released from army service, but simply wants to have his name corrected as he wanted his boy's name on the nation's honor roll listed correctly.

Another young hero who could not wait until he was 18 years old, is John Witkowski, also a downtown young man who is 16 years old, but who enlisted, stating he had reached the required age and whose physical appearance bore out his statement.

Day by day the record of Kingston's young men becomes more bright, and age will not dim the glory of the city's honor roll in the world war.

Bolshevik Activities.

London, Aug. 9.—One thousand Russian officers have been arrested in Petrograd under a plan by the Bolsheviks to force them into a Red Guard army being formed, a dispatch to Copenhagen from Helsinki reports today.

CALLS 100,000 WHITE SELECTIVES

Provost Marshal General Orders 43 States to Furnish Largest Number During August to Entrain August 26th to 30th.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 9.—A call for 100,000 white selective service men to join the colors for general military service was issued today by Provost Marshal General Crowder. They will entrain during the period from August 26 to 30. Forty-three states were asked to furnish quotas under this call, which is the largest issued during August.

GERMANS DID NOT BURY DEAD

Our Troops Pushed Them so Closely in Recent Fighting—Body of Dead Aviator Found Stripped and Unburied.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne front, Aug. 9.—The body of the American aviator who disappeared July 15 was found yesterday south of Dormans. It had been completely stripped of all clothing by the Germans and even its identification tag had been done away with. The body was not buried. The Americans identified the aviator by his cap, which was discovered under the wrecked machine nearby and which evidently had been overlooked by the Germans.

Several wrecked German planes have been found in the past few days by the Americans in newly conquered ground. The Boche had retreated so fast he could not bury his dead.

A heavy mist and occasional showers interfered with aerial work yesterday.

BIRD CAUSED AVIATOR'S DEATH

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, Aug. 9.—Grenville Keogh of New Rochelle, N. Y., an aviator attached to a French squadron, narrowly escaped death, and a French captain observer was killed, when a bird broke the propeller and caused his machine to fall 2,000 feet on the French front. It was learned today.

The peculiar accident occurred while Keogh was banking his plane. As the propeller broke the machine fell sideways. Unable to right it or chose a landing place, Keogh crashed into a rocky field. The French observer captain was hurled from the machine and was killed when his head struck a boulder.

Keogh escaped injury except for a few scratches on his arm where he was struck by a fragment from the engine. He was taken to the Blake Hospital in Paris, where he was treated.

The accident happened on Keogh's second flight since he returned to the front from America, where he became engaged to Miss Pallen of New Rochelle.

TAXPAYERS' DON'T FAVOR GAS BOOST

Kingston Taxpayers' Association Go on Record Opposing Granting of Increased Gas Rates—To be Sent to City Fathers

At the regular meeting of the Kingston Taxpayers' Association a resolution protesting against the Kingston Gas & Electric Company boosting the gas rate from $1.15 to $1.45 per 1,000 cubic feet was unanimously adopted, and will be forwarded to the common council.

The association calls attention in its resolution to circulars sent out by the gas company in February offering opportunities of "participating in our business by subscribing to the 7 per cent convertible gold bonds of the parent company of the Kingston Gas & Electric Company" and that the association believes if a concern can pay 7 per cent it would seem to indicate that there is no particular reason for an increase, and the association feels that the proposed raising of the gas rates is not justified.

"Sunny" Was "Lit Up."

Daniel DeLong, better known as "Sunny," was found asleep in a doorway, on John street, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning by Officer Simpson, who escorted "Sunny" to the county jail where he spent the remainder of the night. Later in the morning Acting City Judge Shufeldt gave "Sunny" a chance to leave town. "Sunny" is 39 years old and is employed as a farm hand near Roxbury.

BRITISH USING TANKS AND CAVALRY

Open Fighting Makes Possible Fast Progress and Every Modern Appliance is Brought Into Use—Gain Averages Seven Miles.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

With the British Armies on the Amiens front, Aug. 9.—(1:30 p. m.)—Between nine and ten thousand prisoners, including 150 officers, among them a major general and several colonels, and one hundred and fifty large guns, have been captured by the Franco-British forces in their new offensive.

A large quantity of other war materials have also been taken in the terrific drive.

Owing to the open fighting which was largely due to the topography of the ground, the British have used the largest force of cavalry and light tanks ever employed in the war. A large number of German machine gun nests were wiped out by these forces.

In their drive against the forces of General Von Hantier, the British also employed a strong force of motor cars on which were mounted machine guns.

Every modern appliance of warfare was used in the initial stages of the drive. The ground recaptured is territory taken by the Germans during March and embraces a score of villages.

The cavalry patrols alone recaptured a number of villages late yesterday.

German prisoners taken expressed pleasure over their capture.

So far the British have taken prisoners from every German division which they attacked.

Two German divisions were being relieved when the drive started, showing that the attack was a surprise.

Some of the prisoners, however, said that an attack by the British on a smaller scale was expected four days ago, evidently prompting the recent retaking of ground captured by the Australians.

The sight of British artillery clattering over the plateau and horses being unhitched as the guns were swung into action against the Germans was inspiring.

The guns immediately would begin to send shells screaming into the German lines. They would continue to blaze away for thirty minutes when they would again be wheeled forward to new positions.

In some places the British have penetrated the German lines to a maximum depth of twelve miles. Hard fighting continued all along the line today with the British still advancing. Yesterday's gain averaged seven miles over a front of 20,000 yards.

AUSTRIANS MAY STRIKE AGAIN

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Rome, Aug. 9.—Indications that the Austrians are about to start another offensive on the Italian front were strengthened by the report of the Italian war office today.

Two attacks were launched by the Austro-Hungarians against the Col del Rosso salient but were crushed by the valiant Italian troops.

The official communiqué stated, "Violent artillery duels have developed in the sector of the Setti Commune on the northern part of the Italian front."

The Setti Commune (the "seven communes") was the scene of heavy fighting during the recent Austro-Hungarian offensive, but the Italians held firm.

GREAT U. S. GUN PLANT IN FRANCE

War Department Announces Plans for Artillery Repair Base Comparable to Krupp's—Will Have Largest Lathe in World.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 9.—A monster heavy gun plant and reclamation equipment base, costing from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 comparable to the Krupp's at Essen, Germany, is to be built in France for the American Expeditionary Forces, the war department announced today.

The plant, when finished will re-line and re-align heavy railroad guns which will save several times the value of the guns themselves.

The principal equipment will be a monster lathe, 500 feet long, or about the length of the Washington monument or the battleship North Dakota, and will be the largest in existence. Its length will be so great, announces the war department, that in drawing the plans, allowance had to be made for the curvature of the earth in order to keep the alignment.

Motor Truck Co. No. 16. A resident of Esopus. His sister, Miss Margaret Lundy, has recently received word of his safe arrival overseas.

Miss Grace Weil has received word of the safe arrival of Private Benj. Wolfe, formerly of this city. Girard Deveau has received word of the safe arrival of Joseph Smith overseas.

Private John H. Waterman, who left for training camp in May, has arrived safely overseas, according to word received Thursday by his friends. Private Waterman for many years was employed by Frank E. Clow, the local milk dealer, before entering the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dunbar have received a very interesting letter from their son, Corporal John Dunbar, saying after a five days' stay in England they crossed to France, where he was separated from his company, and traveled four days more where he will attend school. After his return to France Mr. Dunbar was appointed sergeant.

Melvin Morgan of 79 German street was given a farewell party at his home by a number of his friends on Tuesday evening. Games were played and music enjoyed. At midnight a buffet luncheon was served. Mr. Morgan entrained for Fort Slocum Wednesday morning. His friends remembered him with many useful gifts for which he is very thankful. A brother of Mr. Morgan is stationed at Camp Dix.

DEFERRED CLASSIFICATION.

To Be Granted to Members of Exemption Boards and Government Appeal Agents.

Local boards 1 and 2 have received the following bulletin from the adjutant general's office:

"This department thoroughly appreciates the magnitude and essential character of the work of draft officials and is keenly alive to the importance of retaining the services of members of boards and government appeal agents, and to this end, of granting deferred classification on the ground of necessary employment in the service of the United States to board members and government appeal agents within the new draft age limits who are certified by governors as being necessary in the administration of the draft."

SPANISH NEUTRALITY.

Papers Know Allies Have Cause for Distrust.

By Agency Radio to International News Service.

Paris, Aug. 9.—Rigorous measures are necessary to establish absolutely the neutrality of Spain, according to advices from Madrid today, quoting Spanish newspapers.

One paper was credited with saying, "The Allies mistrust Spain and that a stand is imperative."

The Diario and Universal calls it a "grave and solemn hour."

Dynamite Found Near Aqueduct.

State Trooper Kenneth Bender found 180 lbs. of dynamite secreted on the farm of L. D. Reinhardt, near Carmel, not far from the New York city aqueduct. The explosive was seized and removed to a licensed magazine. Reinhardt, who recently leased the farm, denied ownership of the dynamite and said it was on the premises when he took possession of the farm.

FRENCH AND BRITISH HAVE TAKEN 14,000 PRISONERS

AMERICANS REPULSE COUNTER ATTACKS

General Von Boehm Launched Four Assaults Yesterday Which Our Machine Gunners Turned Back—Line Holds Firm.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

With the American Army on the Marne-Vesle front, Aug. 8 (night)—Picked German shock troops unsuccessfully attempted four times today to drive back the American troops holding the bridgehead and the north bank of the Vesle river.

General Von Boehm launched his heaviest attack soon before daybreak with four hundred picked men from the Grenadier and Prussian guards. He ordered them to regain the river bank at all costs.

American machine guns, however, poured so deadly a fire from the northern outskirts of Fismes and the northern side of the Sissonnes, Rheims high road in the region of Basoches that the German attack was broken down. The enemy continues to hold Basoches technically as he has breached the town with gas in his determination to keep the Allies out, but is unable to live there himself, merely maintaining a cordon of machine gunners at the edge of Fismes.

Despite enemy gases, Krupp batteries and the shelling of back areas by long range enemy guns, Allied engineers have succeeded in establishing a bridge across the Vesle. Enemy aircraft and artillery failed to stop them.

Our artillery also successfully grappled with the barbed wire entanglements which the Boches placed along the river bed to prevent its fording during the Franco-British offensive in the Montfidiar salient.

NEW DRAFT BILL SOON IN CONGRESS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The new army extension appropriation bill is practically drawn up and will be presented to congress shortly. Secretary of War Baker told the senate military affairs committee today.

He refused to discuss the bill or divulge its terms and provisions.

The suspension of voluntary enlistments, he said, would not affect those whose applications were already in. The last appropriation for extension of the army provided for three million men with the provision that the secretary could appear before the military committee at a later date with an additional request.

ALLIED WAR OFFICE REPORTS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Aug. 9.—More than fourteen thousand German prisoners have been captured by the British and French on the Picardy front, the war office announced today.

The offensive continues, the war office statement added.

The number of guns taken from the Germans cannot yet be estimated.

The British have begun a new offensive on the Flanders front, simultaneously with the drive on the Picardy plains.

The whole British line between the Lave river and the sector north-west of Merville has been advanced to a maximum depth of more than 2,300 yards, the war office announced.

(Merville is 25 miles north of Arras. The Lave river lies southward of that zone.)

Paris, Aug. 9.—There is no change on the battle front south of the Somme, the French war office announced today.

The night was marked by a certain amount of artillery activity on the part of the Germans in Champagne. The Germans attempted several surprise attacks in the region of Prose, Mont Sans Nem and Souain, but were repulsed.

(Prose and Souain are thirteen and twenty-five miles respectively, in a southeasterly direction from Rheims.)

Wanted to Be By His Master.

Passengers on a Colonial trolley car Thursday night were interested in the efforts of a dog to stay by his master who was on the car. On the way to Kingston Point the dog jumped on the car several times. When he was put off, in a little while he would jump back on the car. The dog arrived at the Point the same time that his master did.

German Lines Penetrated in Picardy to Maximum Depth of Twelve Miles—New Offensive Equals One Just Closed by French and Americans on Marne—May be Another Thrust in Flanders by British.

The advance of the British and French on the Picardy front has reached a maximum of twelve miles.

More than 14,000 German prisoners have been taken. The new counter offensive is fully as successful as that which the French and Americans carried out on the Aisne-Marne front beginning July 18.

In conjunction with the great drive in front of Amiens the British are vigorously thrusting against the Germans on the Lys salient (Flanders front) and have captured a number of villages, extending their lines over a six mile front to a depth of more than a mile.

The Flanders advance centered between the Lawe river and the zone northwest of Merville.

As the British and French push on along the Picardy front they are wresting village after village from the Germans.

That the Germans were taken completely by surprise is now made absolutely evident by the great number of captives taken. In fact, so many pieces of German artillery were captured that the British officers have not yet had an opportunity to count them.

Cavalry is harassing the German rear guards all along the twenty mile front of the retirement.

The great British base of Amiens is now safe and the Germans have been pressed back so far that they cannot shell the city any longer except with their heaviest artillery.

The important railway lines running through Amiens, supplying the British and Allied armies in the north, are safe, also.

RUSSIA IS IN STATE OF DEFENSE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Related dispatches from American Consul Poles at Moscow today partly cleared up the reports that the Bolsheviks had declared war on Great Britain. Poles reported that on July 3 Premier Lenine announced at a public gathering of the Russian Soviet that a state of war existed between the Russian Republic and the Allied governments.

The consular representatives in Moscow of those powers immediately communicated with M. Tcherin at the ministry of foreign affairs and demanded an explanation of Lenine's statement. Tcherin told them that "a state of defense existed," not a state of war, and expected the representatives to remain at their posts.

The consular officers then demanded that a public statement of exact conditions be made, in order that the public should not be deceived. This was taken under consideration by Tcherin.

When asked whether British and French military officers who were in Russia would be allowed to leave the country, Tcherin said that no obstacle would be placed in their way.

At the same time a report from Archangel stated that when the Allied forces appeared there the Bolsheviks demanded an explanation. The Allies, however, immediately took over the big gun emplacements, and Allied aeroplanes flew over the city dropping propaganda. This was on July 2 and the Bolshevik cavalry that afternoon arrested American, British and French consuls. The next day the Allies asked for an explanation and the officers said they had been arrested for their own safety.

The counter revolution is described as successful and continuing. Its leader co-operating with the Allied forces in the district.

The burden of any action against the Entente in Russia will be placed on the Bolshevik government.

There is not the slightest intention on the part of any of the Allies governments to force any issue in Russia.

Promises made by President Wilson in his announcement will be rigidly adhered to. There never was any intention on the part of any of the Entente powers to violate Russian sovereignty. Several governments in their exchanges with the United States said they have agreed with President Wilson in his policies, and whatever action is taken is merely to aid them in restoring order.

The new government at Archangel has issued ten orders, according to information reaching here, this afternoon, expected to wipe out every vestige of Bolshevik control.

One abolishes all organs of the Soviet government and orders the arrest of all Soviet committees and officials. Another appoints a commander chief of the Russian forces, military and naval, and others appoint government commissaries for provinces and counties; re-establishing municipal government in Seminskoy provinces, counties and townships; empower local self-government to control food supplies; eliminating the Bolshevik element; re-establishing judicial organization; and re-establish free existence of agencies to aid the prosecution of the war.

LLOYD-GEORGE'S MESSAGE OF HOPE

British Premier Says Confidence Justified and Believes Tide of War Has Turned—Says "Hold On."

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Aug. 9.—"We propose to fight it through to the end," declared Premier Lloyd George in a speech at Neath today at a Welsh celebration. Ringing cheers greeted the premier.

"The word is full steam ahead," he continued, "until the Gods decree that the sun shines again in a land of real peace and there is no apprehension of sinister plottings by forces always ready to start the slaughter again."

"We have a right to feel confident for there is great news."

"The Franco-British attack is one ray of light in the tunnel through which the Allies are travelling." It means we have traveled so many miles nearer the end. We may have dark days ahead, nevertheless, let us keep up our spirits.

"Keep steady and all will be well."

"The tide of the battle has turned," the premier declared while on his way to Neath. "The enemy has done his worst," he continued. "He could not do more than he has done. If we hold together we will win the greatest triumph for liberty the world has ever seen."

Melvin Morgan of 79 German street was given a farewell party at his home by a number of his friends on Tuesday evening. Games were played and music enjoyed. At midnight a buffet luncheon was served. Mr. Morgan entrusted for Fort Slocum Wednesday morning. His friends remembered him with many useful gifts for which he is very thankful. A brother of Mr. Morgan is stationed at Camp Dix.

DEFERRED CLASSIFICATION.

To Be Granted to Members of Exemption Boards and Government Appeal Agents.

Local boards 1 and 2 have received the following bulletin from the adjutant general's office:

"This department thoroughly appreciates the magnitude and essential character of the work of draft officials and is keenly alive to the importance of retaining the services of members of boards and government appeal agents, and to this end, of granting deferred classification on the ground of necessary employment in the service of the United States to board members and government appeal agents within the new draft age limits who are certified by governors as being necessary in the administration of the draft."

SPANISH NEUTRALITY.

Papers Know Allies Have Cause for Distrust.

By Agency Radio to International News Service. Paris, Aug. 9.—Rigorous measures are necessary to establish absolutely the neutrality of Spain, according to advices from Madrid today, quoting Spanish newspapers.

One paper was credited with saying, "The Allies mistrust Spain and that a stand is imperative."

The Diario and Universal calls it a "grave and solemn hour."

FRENCH AND BRITISH HAVE TAKEN 14,000 PRISONERS

German Lines Penetrated in Picardy to Maximum Depth of Twelve Miles--New Offensive Equals One Just Closed by French and Americans on Marne--May be Another Thrust in Flanders by British.

General Von Boehm Launched Four Assaults Yesterday Which Our Machine Gunners Turned Back—Line Holds Firm.

By Telegram to The Freeman. With the American Army on the Marne-Vesle Front, Aug. 8 (night)—Picked German shock troops unsuccessfully attempted four times today to drive back the American troops holding the bridgehead and the north bank of the Vesle river.

General Von Boehm launched his heaviest attack soon before day-break with four hundred picked men from the Grenadier and Prussian guards. He ordered them to regain the river bank at all costs.

American machine guns, however, poured so deadly a fire from the northern outskirts of Fismes and the northern side of the Soissons-Rheims high road in the region of Basches that the German attack was broken down. The enemy continues to hold Basches technically, as he has drenched the town with gas in his determination to keep the Allies out, but is unable to live there himself, merely maintaining a cordon of machine gunners at the edge of Fismes.

Despite enemy gases, Krupp batteries and the shelling of back areas by long range enemy guns, Allied engineers succeeded in establishing a bridge across the Vesle. Enemy aircraft and artillery failed to stop them.

Our artillery also successfully grappled with the barbed wire entanglements which the Boches placed along the river bed to prevent its fording during the Franco-British offensive in the Montdidier salient.

NEW DRAFT BILL SOON IN CONGRESS

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Aug. 9.—The new army extension appropriation bill is practically drawn up and will be presented to congress shortly. Secretary of War Baker told the senate military affairs committee today.

He refused to discuss the bill or divulge its terms and provisions.

The suspension of voluntary enlistments, he said, would not affect those whose applications were already in. The last appropriation for extension of the army provided for three million men with the provision that the secretary could appear before the military committee at a later date with an additional request.

ALLIED WAR OFFICE REPORTS

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, Aug. 9.—More than fourteen thousand German prisoners have been captured by the British and French on the Picardy front, the war office announced today.

The offensive continues, the war office statement added.

The number of guns taken from the Germans cannot yet be estimated.

The British have begun a new offensive on the Flanders front, simultaneously with the drive on the Picardy plains.

The whole British line between the Lave river and the sector north-west of Merville has been advanced to a maximum depth of more than 2,000 yards, the war office announced.

(Merville is 25 miles north of Arras. The Lave river lies southward of that zone.)

Paris, Aug. 9.—There is no change on the battle front south of the Somme, the French war office announced today.

The night was marked by a certain amount of artillery activity on the part of the Germans in Champagne. The Germans attempted several surprise attacks in the region of Prosnès, Mont Sans Nem and Souain, but were repulsed.

RUSSIA IS IN STATE OF DEFENSE

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Aug. 9.—Belated dispatches from American Consul Poole at Moscow today partly cleared up the reports that the Bolsheviks had declared war on Great Britain. Poole reported that on July 3 Premier Lenine announced at a public gathering of the Russian Soviet that a state of war existed between the Russian Republic and the Allied governments.

The consular representatives in Moscow of those powers immediately communicated with M. Tcherin at the ministry of foreign affairs and demanded an explanation of Lenine's statement. Tcherin told them that a state of defense existed, not a state of war, and expected the representatives to remain at their posts.

The consular officers then demanded that a public statement of exact conditions be made, in order that the public should not be deceived. This was taken under consideration by Tcherin.

When asked whether British and French military officers who were in Russia would be allowed to leave the country, Tcherin said that no obstacle would be placed in their way.

At the same time a report from Archangel stated that when the Allied forces appeared there the Bolsheviks demanded an explanation. The Allies, however, immediately took over the big gun emplacements, and Allied aeroplanes flew over the city dropping propaganda. This was on July 2 and the Bolshevik cavalry that afternoon arrested American, British and French consuls. The next day the Allies asked for an explanation and the officers said they had been arrested for their own safety.

The counter revolution is described as successful and continuing. Its leader co-operating with the Allied forces in the district.

The burden of any action against the Entente in Russia will be placed on the Bolshevik government. There is not the slightest intention on the part of any of the Allies governments to force any issue in Russia.

Promises made by President Wilson in his announcement will be rigidly adhered to. There never was any intention on the part of any of the Entente powers to violate Russian sovereignty. Several governments in their exchanges with the United States said they have agreed with President Wilson in his policies, and whatever action is taken is merely to aid them in restoring order.

The new government at Archangel has issued ten orders according to information reaching here this afternoon, expected to wipe out every phase of Bolshevik control.

One abolishes all organs of the Soviet government and orders the arrest of all Soviet committees and officials. Another appoints a commander chief of the Russian forces, military and naval, and others appoint government commissaries for provinces and counties; re-establishing municipal government in Semenov provinces, counties and townships; empower local self-government to control food supplies; re-establishing judicial element; and re-establish free existence of agencies to aid the prosecution of the war.

LLOYD-GEORGE'S MESSAGE OF HOPE

British Premier Says Confidence Justified and Believes Tide of War Has Turned—Says "Hold On."

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, Aug. 9.—"We propose to fight it through to the end," declared Premier Lloyd George in a speech at Neath today at a Welsh celebration. Ringing cheers greeted the premier.

"The word is full steam ahead," he continued, "until the Gods decree that the sun shines again in a land of real peace and there is no apprehension of sinister plottings by forces always ready to start the slaughter again."

"We have a right to feel confident for there is great news."

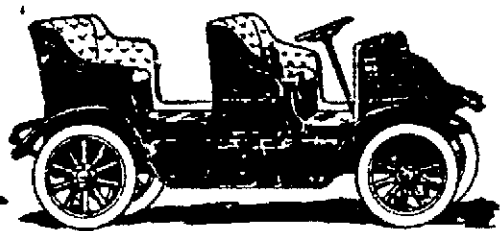

"The Franco-British attack is one ray of light in the tunnel through which the Allies are travelling," continued the premier. "It means we have traveled so many miles nearer the end. We may have dark days ahead, nevertheless, let us keep up our spirits."

"The tide of the battle has turned," the premier declared while on his way to Neath. "The enemy has done his worst," he continued. "He could not do more than he has done. If we hold together we will win the greatest triumph for liberty the world has ever seen."

TONS OF FISH DIE IN WALLKILL RIVER

Killed by Sewer Polluting River—State Health Department Helps to Remove the Dead Fish.

Thousands of fish have died in the Wallkill river during the past few days, and in an investigation made by the state game protectors it was learned that the trouble apparently started where the Middletown sewer empties into the river, as no dead fish were found beyond that point. On the rocks near the village of Montgomery were found 90 large carp, estimated to weigh a ton, which had been killed by boys and laid up on the rocks.

The banks of the river from Midway Park to the Crabtree mill at Montgomery were strewn with thousands of dead carp, suckers, pickers, catfish and black bass. Many pickers weighed from one pound to three and bass likewise.

The matter was reported to the health department in Albany, which said that in all probability sewer poisons which had been washed into the river had caused the oxygen to be eaten from the water and that this was the cause of the fish coming to the top and dying.

The state health department sent an engineer to co-operate with the town boards in placing the blame and a number of men were put to work cleaning up the dead fish near the village of Montgomery, as the stench was unbearable. Farmers along the stream were notified not to allow their cattle to drink the water until conditions are righted.

It was stated that a resident of Montgomery took a wagon load to Westbrook and sold them at 50 cents each. In the Crabtree mill dam the carp give the appearance of submarines plunging along near the top of the water looking for air. The sight attracted hundreds of Walden and Montgomery residents who said nothing like it had before been seen along the Wallkill river. The Montgomery town board and the health board of the village of Montgomery are co-operating in having the dead fish removed.

FOR DRAFTED MEN.

Government Makes Every Effort Toward Their Comfort.

New York, Aug. 9.—At this time when drafted men are going in great numbers to our training camps and cantonments the War Camp Community Service of the Commissions on Training Camp Activities of the War and Navy Departments has begged the newspapers to call their attention to the facilities which it offers, all of which are at their disposal.

In New York city alone War Camp Community Service maintains fifteen different clubs at which there are more than 2,300 beds at a nightly price of 25 cents, and an ample breakfast can be obtained for 10 cents. The service reaches every community in the United States, every training camp and the following recent report from Pensacola, Fla. gives an indication of what it does for the newly drafted men:

"On Wednesday evening a group of drafted men were sent here for re-examination by the district board. They got here at midnight. No provision had been made for taking care of them and they were at a loss until someone suggested our club. They came up and were given comfortable sleeping quarters. It was necessary for them to stay in town all the next day and they made the club their headquarters. The leading ladies of Pensacola served them their meals, and all the privileges of the club were theirs even to the free use of the pool tables. As they were leaving one of them said to me: 'Well, mister, I feel different about going away now.'"

NEXT WORLD'S SERIES

Will Be Decided In France, Think Powers

New York, Aug. 9.—Organized baseball is not killed, it merely is transferred to "somewhere in France for the duration of the war. Such is the expressed opinion of John Thomas Powers organizer and first president of the late Federal League who is going to France with the well-detailed intention of gridironing that far land with baseball leagues of gradually increasing importance from the sandlots teams which practice in No Man's Land up to the real big league champions which will settle the supremacy on diamonds in the south of France next winter.

The next world championship baseball series will be decided "somewhere in France," says John Thomas Powers and while he does not go so far as to predict the exact leagues which will clash in this classic so far from its native heath, he concedes it may be between the Y M C A League leader and the K of C League topline.

Hints on Drying Vegetables.

Every home gardener will want to preserve some of his vegetables for winter use. Drying is a method worth knowing about, thinks the State College of Agriculture. Many kinds of home driers are on the market. Experience has shown, however, that a set of trays arranged horizontally over the kitchen range at such height that produce will dry readily and uniformly without browning or souring, is more satisfactory than most others. Cheese-cloth or muslin stretched securely over a square or rectangular frame makes a satisfactory tray for all kinds of produce. The home drier consisting of a set of trays placed one above the other in a frame is unsatisfactory. A relatively uniform temperature, preferably 110 degrees F. is essential for drying. Fruits and vegetables successfully dried at hard coal is burned, the trays may be lowered to within six or eight inches of the stove when the fire is banked. In a furnace-heated house trays of produce may be dried over hot-air registers during the late fall.

STELLES' 11th ANNUAL SUNSHINE SALE CLOSSES SATURDAY, AUG. 17

We only have One Sunshine Summer Shoe Sale each year and the people of this vicinity have come to recognize it as the greatest money saving event in the shoe business.

Owing to the extreme heat this week we know a great many people have been unable to attend our sale this year, so we have extended the closing date to August 17th, in order that all those desirous to save a goodly amount on all their summer shoe needs may have a chance to attend this sale.

The assortment of sizes is fine. All the footwear is from our regular Best Value Stock. The savings are greater in many instances than at any previous sale. All ages can be fitted at big savings during this Sunshine Sale which closes Saturday, August 17th.

Self Denial Shown Cheerfully By Scottish Child.

A letter came to Mr. Hoover the other day, from a little girl in a Scotch mining town. She thanks him for the selfishness of the American people, contrasting them with the Germans, who she is "jolly well sure would not have the heart in them to look after any land but their own, unless they wanted something in return."

It makes you wonder just how selfish you have been, just how unselfish little notes about the "food-stuffs" that have reached English homes through American self-denial.

They are rationed over there. The little Scotch girl says, "I miss all the puddings and nice sweet meats, but we can live without them and I will economize as much as possible. When Saturday or Sunday night comes our sugar, butter, and jam are finished and we must wait 'till Monday before we can receive our rations. It is a hard time but if we mean to win this war, we must take what comes as long as it helps to shorten the war."

America, too, is on a ration, an honor ration. Sugar is the food that is scarce now. America, as source of supply for herself and her allies, is keeper of the books. She can abstract more than her share, but is on her honor not to.

Of all the sugar used in this country, in 1917, from 66 to 72 per cent went directly into the households for domestic consumption. It is here that the country must reduce its demands. When the new crops begin to come in November, the shortage will be somewhat relieved. But for the present there is an absolute necessity that the country have its use of sugar.

MOTION DENIED

For Changing Place Of Trial To New York County.

In the action of Altha C. Dimick plaintiff, against the Parkside Operating Company, Inc., defendant, the motion of the defendant for an order changing the place of trial from Ulster county to New York county was denied with $10 costs by Justice Charles E. Nichols at a term of the supreme court held for the county of Ulster in the court house at Albany on July 20. The action is brought by Altha C. Dimick to recover $6,000 for jewelry contained in a jewel case said to be valued at above amount and which was left in the safe of the defendant for safe keeping November 15, 1917, while plaintiff was a guest of their Parkside Hotel, 31 West 1st street, New York city. The jewels are missing.

Says She Was Put Out.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 9.—Mrs. Annie Johnson, sixty, widow of a patrolman, has filed suit in circuit court against Benjamin E. Emken and his wife, Anne, to recover $1,250. The suit alleges Mrs. Johnson gave the couple on September 9, 1915, her entire holdings of $1,450 and in return they contracted to maintain, clothe and house her the remainder of her life. The petition sets forth that on February 26, 1917, the Emkens put her out of their home.

KINGSTON, N. Y., AUGUST 9, 1918.

The French "They shall not pass" is good, but the American "Eat 'em up" is better, being more suggestive of the real "get there" spirit.

But even a great victory does not end a war, and the fact that most of the Huns got out of the trap they blundered into leaves still the promise of long and stubborn fighting.

Report has it that our visiting congressmen "retired in good order" when shells began bursting over their luncheon table at Chateau Thierry, which does not mean that they wasted any time unnecessarily.

The Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Miss Vanderbilt, is a candidate for a vacancy on the London County Council. Whatever her qualifications or lack of them, she may be trusted to cause a stir in that venerable body.

In his proclamation to his rattled troops the Kaiser significantly remarks that "American armies and numerical superiority do not frighten us"—which they evidently do. The All-Highest was of course unconscious of the compliment to the American he has pretended to despise.

Trained Germans are finding untrained Americans very annoying. A captured German complains: "We couldn't take the village because the Americans were where they had no business to be. They came right out through the barrage and it wasn't right."

PATHOS AND PICTURESQUENESS.

The multi-colored and changing panorama of this great war presents innumerable shades of pathos and picturesqueness. Nothing more touching, for example, has been brought to public attention than the light-hearted greetings to America of 315 blind French soldiers. These officers and privates of the New York Permanent Relief War Fund housed in a chateau near Tours have sent through the French ambassador at Washington to the American government, army and people "their expression of gratitude, enthusiasm and confidence." Service in the war has made them blind, but they are "cousled and unutterably happy in seeing the day come near when, thanks to the co-operation of the American army and allied nations, the civilized world will reap the reward of the sacrifice they made in fighting for the liberty of their fatherland and the independence of all the peoples."

It dims one's eyes to hear that these afflicted heroes are "consoled and unutterably happy" because they "see" the war's triumphant issue.

As for the war's picturesqueness, that reaches its climax, perhaps, in the spectacle of American Indians fighting in the forests of France with all the powers of their ancestors in stealthy scouting and with "Liberty" as their up-to-date warwhoop. A few nights ago six khaki-clad Redskins of the Sioux tribe penetrated the German lines three miles, crept up to a chateau where Prussian officers were guzzling French wine, and then, with sudden blood-curdling warwhoops, threw hand grenades that brought death and confusion to the banqueting board. Then every man of them returned unharmed to the American lines, leaving amazement shattered nerves and fear behind them. Yes, this war presents both pathos and picturesqueness without a parallel.

CLUMSY DECEIVERS.

While the German officials stop at nothing in their efforts to keep up the courage of their civil population, they fail to provide for and seem to overlook entirely the bewildering effect of their brazen contradictions. The government and semi-official newspapers regard it as necessary to stick to the fiction that only a few Americans have reached France, but at the same time they seem to consider it equally necessary to show that hundreds of thousands of American troops have been slaughtered by the Kaiser's invincible legions. Apparently the paradox does not disturb the purveyors of these fictions, but it must greatly trouble that part of the German population which still retains its ability to think.

Correspondents at the front are inevitably letting out a part of the truth. Thus one writes to the Berlin Vorwarts that "keen as the Americans are in attack, they are clumsy enough in defense" and "all the German counter thrusts have been successful when directed against the Americans." Even while claiming successful counter thrusts, this correspondent confesses that the despised handful of untrained Americans are boldly attacking picked troops of the Kaiser. It is the deceivers of the German public who are clumsy. Repeated accounts have shown that the Americans have driven the Germans out of town after town and that the counter thrusts of the latter have been fruitless. Some part of the real truth must ere this have dawned upon even the deceived and bewildered German population.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"No man wants to be too hard on his children's follies." "Then, sir, if your daughter marries me, will you make some allowance to her?"—Baltimore American.

"I understand you have quit playing politics." "Never did play it," replied Senator Sorghum. "With me politics was always business and hard work."—Washington Star.

"How would you like to smoke a post-prandial cigar?" "I don't know the brand, but I guess I can take a chance."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mother—"You careless child! You've soiled the tablecloth again!" Bessie (after thinking)—"If nobody soiled things, mother, the poor washerwoman might starve to death!"—Buffalo Express.

"There is nothing sadder than wasted talents." "You're right!" exclaimed Farmer Cornsloss. "Think of what these miserable cutworms could accomplish if they'd organize as lawn mowers!"—Washington Star.

On the examination paper of an engineering college, one of the questions ran: "What steps would you take in determining the height of a building using an aneroid barometer?" Answering this, one youthful aspirant wrote: "I would lower the barometer by a string and then measure the string."—Boston Transcript.

His Wish.

Wayne McVeagh, the lawyer and diplomat, has on the outskirts of Philadelphia, an admirable stock farm. One day last summer some poor children were permitted to go over his farm, and when their inspection was done, to each of them was given a glass of milk. The milk was excellent, in fact, from a two-hundred dollar cow.

"Well, boys, how do you like it?" the farmer said, when they had drained their glasses.

"Fine!" said one little fellow. Then, after a pause, he added: "I wish our milkman kept a cow!"

Bristled Right Up.

"Miss Jones" said the hostess, "permit me to introduce Mr. Hogg, author of those delightfully clever poems you must have read."

"I am glad to meet Mr. Hogg," said the young woman. "Pardon the question, but is that your real name?"

"Certainly," said Hogg bristling up. "Did you think it was my pen name?"—Boston Transcript.

He Knew the Place.

"Now, boys," said the teacher in the juvenile Sunday school class, "our lesson today teaches us that if we are good while here on earth when we die we will go to a place of everlasting bliss. But suppose we are bad, then what will become of us?"

"We'll go to a place of everlasting blister," promptly answered the small boy at the pedal extremity of the class.—Brooklyn Citizen.

An Unfair Advantage.

A Penobscot girl, writing to her Canadian sweetheart in France, inquired in her last letter: "What kind of a man is the censor who reads all my letters and your letters to me and signs his name 'Opened by the censor'?" The censor added a foot note in her sweetheart's last letter, describing himself and now the girl doesn't know whether she is in love with the censor or her old sweetheart.—Penobscot Gazette.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

August 9, 1898.—Peter Ingold of Bloomfield, N. J., robbed at a watch here.

Residents of School District No. 2 held a meeting to protest against action of former meeting to state department.

Farm Equipment Profiters.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—To sell farm equipment on the basis of what it would cost the dealer to replace it may be considered profiteering, according to a statement issued today by the office of Farm Equipment Control of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Persons who have sold equipment at replacement values when costs were high must continue to do so if prices go down, even though such sales bring less than the original cost price of the stock. Moreover, those whose selling price is fixed in relation to high replacement prices, must restrict immediately and carry the same quantity of equipment throughout the high-price period as they had at its beginning, in order not to profiteer. Those who desire to sell out without replacing their stock should not sell at a prevailing high price, but at cost plus a fair usual profit.

Nothing more touching, for example, has been brought to public attention than the light-hearted greetings to America of 315 blind French soldiers. These officers and privates of the New York Permanent Relief War Fund housed in a chateau near Tours have sent through the French ambassador at Washington to the American government, army and people "their expression of gratitude, enthusiasm and confidence." Service in the war has made them blind, but they are "consoled and unutterably happy in seeing the day come near when, thanks to the co-operation of the American army and allied nations, the civilized world will reap the reward of the sacrifice they made in fighting for the liberty of their fatherland and the independence of all the peoples." It dims one's eyes to hear that these afflicted heroes are "consoled and unutterably happy" because they can "see" the war's triumphant issue!

As for the war's picturesqueness, that reaches its climax, perhaps, in the spectacle of American Indians fighting in the forests of France with all the powers of their ancestors in stealthy scouting and with "Liberty" as their up-to-date warwhoop. A few nights ago six khaki-clad Redskins of the Sioux tribe penetrated the German lines three miles, crept up to a chateau where Prussian officers were guzzling French wine, and then, with sudden blood-curdling warwhoops, threw hand grenades that brought death and confusion to the banqueting board. Then every man of them returned unharmed to the American lines, leaving amazement, shattered nerves and fear behind them. Yes, this war presents both pathos and picturesqueness without a parallel.

CLUMSY DECEIVERS.

While the German officials stop at nothing in their efforts to keep up the courage of their civil population, they fail to provide for and seem to overlook entirely the bewildering effect of their brazen contradictions. The government and semi-official newspapers regard it as necessary to stick to the fiction that only a few Americans have reached France, but at the same time they seem to consider it equally necessary to show that hundreds of thousands of American troops have been slaughtered by the Kaiser's invincible legions. Apparently the paradox does not disturb the purveyors of these fictions, but it must greatly trouble that part of the German population which still retains its ability to think.

Correspondents at the front are inevitably letting out a part of the truth. Thus one writes to the Berlin Vorwarts that "keen as the Americans are in attack, they are clumsy enough in defense" and "all the German counter thrusts have been successful when directed against the Americans." Even while claiming successful counter thrusts, this correspondent confesses that the despised handful of untrained Americans are boldly attacking picked troops of the Kaiser. It is the deceivers of the German public who are clumsy. Repeated accounts have shown that the Americans have driven the Germans out of town after town and that the counter thrusts of the latter have been fruitless. Some part of the real truth must ere this have dawned upon even the deceived and bewildered German population.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"No man wants to be too hard on his children's follies." "Then, sir, if your daughter marries me, will you make some allowance to her?"—Baltimore American.

"I understand you have quit playing politics." "Never did play it," replied Senator Sorghum. "With me politics was always business and hard work."—Washington Star.

"How would you like to smoke a post-prandial cigar?" "I don't know the brand, but I guess I can take a chance."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mother—"You careless child! You've soiled the tablecloth again!" Bessie (after thinking)—"If nobody soiled things, mother, the poor washerwoman might starve to death."—Buffalo Express.

"There is nothing sadder than wasted talents." "You're right!" exclaimed a Farmer. Cornetssel. "Think of what these miserable cutworms could accomplish if they'd organize as lawn mowers."—Washington Star.

On the examination paper of an engineering college, one of the questions ran: "What steps would you take in determining the height of a building, using an aneroid barometer?" Answering this, one youthful aspirant wrote: "I would lower the barometer by a string and then measure the string."—Boston Transcript.

His Wish.

Wayne McVeagh, the lawyer and diplomat, has on the outskirts of Philadelphia, an admirable stock farm. One day last summer some poor children were permitted to go over his farm, and when their inspection was done, to each of them was given a glass of milk. The milk was excellent, in fact, from a two-thousand dollar cow.

"Well, boys, how do you like it?" the farmer said when they had drained their glasses.

"Fine!" said one little fellow. Then, after a pause, he added: "I wish our milkman kep' a cow."—Argonaut.

Bristled Right Up.

"Miss Jones," said the hostess, "permit me to introduce Mr. Hogg, author of those delightfully clever poems you must have read."

"I am glad to meet Mr. Hogg," said the young woman. "Pardon the question, but is that your real name?"

"Certainly," said Hogg, bristling up. "Did you think it was my pen name?"—Boston Transcript.

He Knew the Place.

"Now, boys," said the teacher in the juvenile Sunday school class, "our lesson today teaches us that if we are good while here on earth, when we die we will go to a place of everlasting bliss. But suppose we are bad, then what will become of us?"

"We'll go to a place of everlasting blister," promptly answered the small boy at the pedal extremity of the class.—Brooklyn Citizen.

An Unfair Advantage.

A Peabody girl, writing to her Canadian sweetheart in France, inquired in her last letter: "What kind of a man is the censor who reads all my letters and your letters to me and signs his name 'Opened by the censor'?" The censor added a foot note in her sweetheart's last letter, describing himself and now the girl doesn't know whether she is in love with the censor or her old sweetheart.—Peabody Gazette.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

August 9, 1898.—Peter Ingold of Bloomfield, N. J., robbed of a watch here.

Residents of School District No. 3 held a meeting to protest against action of former meeting to state department.

August 9, 1908.—Cad W. D. B. Smith died on North Front street, aged 74 years.

Wayside Inn at Ellenville opened to the public.

Arthur Fox commanding the Lily, won the race of the mosquito fleet at South Rondout.

Farm Equipment Profiters.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—To sell farm equipment on the basis of what it would cost the dealer to replace it may be considered profiteering, according to a statement issued today by the office of Farm Equipment Control of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Persons who have sold equipment at replacement values when costs were high must continue to do so if prices go down, even though sales bring less than the original cost price of the stock. Moreover, those whose selling price is fixed in relation to high replacement prices must restock immediately and carry the same quantity of equipment throughout the high-price period as they had at its beginning, in order not to profiteer. Those who desire to sell out without replacing their stock should not sell at a prevailing high price, but at cost plus a fair usual profit.

Photographs of Kingston Boys in the Army and Navy---Of Your Sons, Husbands, Sweethearts, Friends, Perhaps YOURSELF

To provide a permanent record of the heroism, sacrifices of Kingston's heroes and patriots, the New York American has prepared for free distribution next Sunday a beautiful three part pictorial supplement, printed on fine paper and bound in an appropriate and beautiful cover.

This supplement contains pictures of Kingston's soldier and sailor heroes, and the other patriotic sons and daughters who have done more than their share in our nation's cause. It will also contain a photograph of President Wilson, autographed especially for this portfolio.

Every day thereafter for a week there will be given free with every copy of the daily New York American sold in Kingston another picture that can be bound in the cover.

At least sixty pictures will be printed--seven a week--all showing

KINGSTON'S PART IN THE WORLD WAR

After the first week, when all the pictures will be free, seven consecutive daily headings of the New York American and ten cents, to cover part of the cost, will be redeemable for a set of pictures.

The best way for you to make sure of getting the art cover and every one of the inserts is to place your order for the New York American now with your dealer, or write to the Circulation Department New York American, No. 2 Duane Street, New York.

Send Us the Pictures of Your Heroes

We want this portfolio to be a complete pictorial history. Therefore, if you have pictures either of soldiers, sailors or other men or women whose patriotic efforts entitle them to a place in this portfolio, send them to the War Portfolio Editor, New York American, New York City.

NEWKIRK TELLS OF LIFE IN TRENCHES

Former Letter Carrier "Bill" Newkirk Now in "No Man's Land" in France--Rats Big as Cats--Life "Over There."

Former Letter Carrier "Bill" Newkirk of the central post office, and now First Class Private William G. Newkirk, 306th Infantry, American Exp. Forces, has written an interesting letter under date of July 6, to his friend Harry Walker of Maben & Walker, the Broadway druggists, relating in an interesting way life in the trenches facing "No Man's Land." "Bill" Newkirk is well known in Kingston and his friends will be glad to read the following interesting letter:

He writes that under the army regulations concerning just what to write and what not to write, "It is very hard to write an interesting letter under these circumstances. The way I am situated now it is difficult for me to write as often as I would like to."

"This is the first Fourth of July I have been away from home in many years, and it seemed rather queer to me at first. But it was some lively. No pin wheels or Roman candles, but six and eight inch shells over your dome from French and American artillery in the rear and on all sides of us. Aeroplane raids and gas attacks were also in progress and altogether we spent a sleepless as well as a watchful night in the trenches for that is where I am, and not over 5 or 7 hundred yards from the German front line trenches.

"No Man's Land" stretches between and every time after this when you read about 'No Man's Land' you will know that I am looking at it every day. It was with a certain kind of awe that I viewed it for the first time, but like everything else in the army we become accustomed to look at it as any other kind of ground, although it is a weird looking country at night, all trenches, dug-out, shell holes and barbed wire entanglements stretching for miles and miles. It is a hard job for a needle to penetrate let alone men or a patrol.

"My home is in a dug-out, and has been for the past ten days. It is a log hut built underground, roofed with heavy semi-circular iron forms and supposed to be gas proof, although we never take a chance, we always wear our gas masks at all times slung around our necks in the 'alert' so that when the gas horns and sirens screech throughout the trenches we simply have to get the masks adjusted in from 6 to 8 seconds. A man can't be too careful in this game, as I have found out many times.

"We have lots of company here. Rats--and man eaters, too. They are really as large as some cats almost and don't scare very easily. The trenches are full of them. They run over your feet while you are on guard at night, and run over our bunks when we are asleep in the day. So you see they don't have any pity on us.

"No one sleeps here at night. Everyone is on his post on guard, with loaded rifle and fixed bayonet, and anyone coming through our trenches or around them are challenged and if the password is not given after the second 'Halt' we have orders to shoot, so you see this business is no baby-play over here, but hunting for big game.

"We sleep during the day by shifts and our meals are brought to us by details from a town about 1 1/2 miles behind the lines.

"We expect to be relieved in a few days, and get sent back to a town where we will get nine or ten days' rest before going into these rat holes again.

"One learns to walk with his head down and keep his steel helmet from showing above the parapet, unless he wants to have a few of those steel covered 'pills' sent after him. "But the gas attacks are the things mostly to be feared. They are sent over in the form of six and eight inch shells shot from the artillery and bursting, throwing out this poisonous cloud gas and mustard gas, which travels close to the ground from two to eight miles per hour. This can only be used to a good advantage though, when the wind is favorable, otherwise a changing current would blow the enemy's gas back in their own faces. That form of warfare is the thing that is keeping Germany on the map, I think, and in time that will be entirely overcome as the American and French are sending over twenty to their one."

Private Newkirk closes with the remark that he has been recommended for a corporal, and is hoping he will land the position.

Kingston Moose to Visit Newburgh.

Members of the Loyal Order of Moose from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Middletown and Warwick will visit Newburgh next Sunday afternoon when Newburgh men will be initiated into the Mooseheart Legion. The meeting will be held at 3 p. m. in the lodge rooms in the Academy of Music building. An open meeting will precede the initiation at which the objects of the degree will be outlined, by eminent members of the legion.

The Mooseheart Legion is intended primarily to foster a spirit of helpfulness for Mooseheart, the great industrial school and home of the Moose in Mooseheart, Ill. Scientific investigators have described Mooseheart as a wonderful step forward in philanthropy, and in the solution of dependency. Orphans of members taken to Mooseheart receive there the equivalent of an academic education, something of the fine arts, and a thorough vocational training so that when they leave the school at 18 years of age, they are eligible for union cards and each boy or girl is well qualified with head and hands to make his living.

Each member of the order contributes $1 a year to the maintenance of this institution. The Mooseheart Legion, which has dues of $4 a year, devotes $2 of this money to aid the Mooseheart fund.

NEWKIRK TELLS OF LIFE IN TRENCHESFormer Letter Carrier "Bill" Newkirk Now in "No Man's Land" in France—Rats Big as Cats——Life "Over There."Former Letter Carrier "Bill" Newkirk of the central post office, and now First Class Private William G.
Newkirk, 306th Infantry, American Exp. Forces, has written an interesting letter under date of July 6, to his friend Harry Walker of Mahan & Walker, the Broadway druggists, relating in an interesting way life in the trenches facing "No Man's Land.""Bill" Newkirk is well known in Kingston and his friends will be glad to read the following interesting letter:He writes that under the army regulations concerning just what to write and what not to write, "It is very hard to write an interesting letter under these circumstances. The way I am situated now it is difficult for me to write as often as I would like to.""This is the first Fourth of July I have been away from home in many years, and it seemed rather queer to me at first. But it was some lively.
No pin wheels or Roman candles, but six and eight inch shells over your dome from French and American artillery in the rear and on all sides of us. Aeroplane raids and gas attacks were also in progress and together we spent a sleepless as well as a watchful night in the trenches for that is where I am, and not over 6 or 7 hundred yards from the German front line trenches."No Man's Land" stretches between and every time after this when you read about 'No Man's Land' you will know that I am looking at it every day. It was with a certain kind of awe that I viewed it for the first time, but like everything else in the army we become accustomed to look at it as any other kind of ground, although it is a weird looking country at night, all trenches, dug-out, shell holes and barbed wire entanglements stretching for miles and miles. It is a hard job for a needle to penetrate let alone men or a patrol."My home is in a dug-out, and has been for the past ten days. It is a log hut built underground, roofed with heavy semi-circular iron forms and supposed to be gas proof, although we never take a chance,
we always wear our gas masks at all times slung around our necks in the 'alert' so that when the gas horns and sirens screech throughout the trenches we simply have to get the masks adjusted in from 6 to 8 seconds. A man can't be too careful in this game, as I have found out many times."We have lots of company here.
Rats—and man eaters, too. They are really as large as some cats almost and don't scare very easily.
The trenches are full of them. They run over your feet while you are on guard at night, and run over our bunks when we are asleep in the day. So you see they don't have any pity on us."No one sleeps here at night.
Everyone is on his post on guard,
with loaded rifle and fixed bayonet, and anyone coming through our trenches or around them are challenged and if the pass word is not given after the second 'Halt' we have orders to shoot, so you see this business is no baby-play over here, but hunting for big game."We sleep during the day by shifts and our meals are brought to us by details from a town about 1½ behind the lines."We expect to be relieved in a few days, and get sent back to a town where we will get nine or ten days' rest before going into these rat holes again."One learns to walk with his head down and keep his steel helmet from showing above the parapet, unless he wants to have a few of those steel covered 'pills' sent after him."But the gas attacks are the things mostly to be feared. They are sent over in the form of six and eight inch shells shot from the artillery and bursting, throwing out this poisonous cloud gas and mustard gas, which travels close to the ground from two to eight miles per hour. This can only be used to a good advantage though, when the wind is favorable, otherwise a changing current would blow the enemy's gas back in their own faces.
That form of warfare is the thing that is keeping Germany on the map, I think, and in time that will be entirely overcome as the American and French are sending over twenty to their one."Private Newkirk closes with the remark that he has been recommended for a corporal, and is hoping he will land the position.Kingston Moose to Visit Newburgh.
Members of the Loyal Order of Moose from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Middletown and Warwick will visit Newburgh next Sunday afternoon when Newburgh men will be initiated into the Mooseheart Legion. The meeting will be held at 2 p. m. in the lodge rooms in the Academy of Music building. An open meeting will precede the initiation at which the objects of the degree will be outlined, by eminent members of the legion.

The Mooseheart Legion is intended primarily to foster a spirit of helpfulness for Mooseheart, the great industrial school and home of the Moose in Mooseheart, Ill. Scientific investigators have described Mooseheart as a wonderful step forward in philanthropy, and in the solution of dependency. Orphans of members taken to Mooseheart receive there the equivalent of an academic education, something of the fine arts, and a thorough vocational training so that when they leave the school at 18 years of age, they are eligible for union cards and each boy or girl is well qualified with head and hands to make his living.

Each member of the order contributes $1 a year to the maintenance of this institution. The Mooseheart

Legion, which has dues of $4 a year, devotes $2 of this money to aid the Mooseheart fund.

FIGHTING DOES NOT GIVE OUR TROOPS ENOUGH EXERCISE.

A soldier's life is never so strenuous but that he needs athletic exercise to keep him in trim. That's why the Y. M. C. A. at the government's request, has sent over men who can stage boxing matches as well as training soldiers in baseball and in track and field events.

MUSIC AT THE POINT.

Special Programs by Colonial City Band on Saturday and Sunday.

There are now being given at Kingston Point Park two special programs by the Colonial City Band. George H. Muller, conductor; one on Saturday the other on Sunday. It is a long time since the Point Park has been as popular as this summer, especially since this term of intense heat. On every side one hears the comment that the band concerts have done a very great deal to bring about this popularity. This week Saturday's program will include the following numbers:

Saturday Afternoon and Evening.
Star Spangled Banner.
Elks March.
Moonlight Blues.
Southern Gales.
Don't Try to Steal the Sweetheart of a Soldier.
Selections from "Jack O'Lantern." Canoeing.
Missouri Waltz.
Giddy Giddap, Go on, Go on.
Pozzo.

Sunday Afternoon and Evening.
Star Spangled Banner.
Blue, White and Red.
Simple Aven.
Zampa.
We're in It, We're in It.
Intermission.
Chantryman's March.
Cavalry (solo for Trumpet) Mr. Hoyer.
All Hail to Marshal Joffre.
Excerpts from "Eileen."
Smiles.

JUST PEPPERS.

Many Possibilities For Use of This Garden Product.

Peter Piper may have picked a peck of peppers, but the pickling will have to be left to you. Here are some directions for that and other delightful things to be done with peppers, suggested by the United States Food Administration.

Pickled Peppers.
Cut the stems out in a circle with a sharp knife and lay them aside to replace later. Fill the peppers with a mixture of finely chopped cabbage, grated horse radish, mustard seed and salt. Wash the peppers in cold water; fill them; replace the stem; tie them with a soft cord to keep the lids in; pack them in stone jars and fill up with cold sharp vinegar. They will be ready for use in two weeks.

Sweetbread in Peppers.
Parboil sweetbreads, cool and cut in small pieces; there should be one cup. Melt two tablespoons butter, add two tablespoons corn flour, and pour on gradually one cup of chicken stock; then add two tablespoons of cream. Season with salt, paprika and Worcestershire sauce. Cut a slice from the stem of six peppers, remove seeds and parboil peppers fifteen minutes. Cool, fill and bake for thirty minutes.

Further Suggestions.
Peppers may be parboiled, stuffed with any sort of a mixture—cooked rice and meat, hominy grits, corn meal, mush, corn, rice and nuts—and baked.

Peppers combined with cheese are very good as a salad.

Peppers and cabbage also are very good.

Our Growing Population.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Vagina of No. 37 Elmendorf street are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son.

A daughter has been welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Osterhout of No. 70 Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Quest of No. 75 O'Neil street are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Davis of No. 29 South Wall street have welcomed a daughter at their home.

A son has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Myers of No. 18 Smith avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Freer of 17 Orchard street have welcomed a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Leverich of No. 29 Crane street are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter.

Outing of Wounded Soldiers.

Two hundred wounded soldiers and sailors from the base hospital at Gunhill Road, Bronx, New York city, were taken Tuesday on a pleasure trip up the Hudson river as far as West Point aboard the steam yacht Surf.

ULSTER COUNTY FAIR.

Many Fine Exhibitions and Three Days' Racing.

Final arrangements are being made for the Ulster county fair, which will be held on August 20-22, 1918, at Ellenville. Everything points to the fact that the fair will indeed be the best yet.

The board of managers has introduced an extra day of racing and the program of the races is as follows:

Wednesday, August 21.

2:17 class pace or trot, purse, $300
2:35 class pace or trot, purse, $200.
Name race for Ulster county horses, purse, $150.

Thursday, August 22.

2:21 class pace or trot, purse, $300.
2:35 class pace or trot, purse, $300.
Directum 1 will go against the track record.

Friday, August 23.

2:30 class pace or trot, purse, $200.
Free for all, Directum 1 barred, purse, $500.

Among the innovations of the fair will be the Ulster county spelling bee on the first day of the fair. The winner of this revival of old time spelling match will represent Ulster county at the state match to be held at Syracuse state fair. That day there will also be a contest to pick a farm boy to represent Ulster county at the state farm boys' camp at the state fair.

The state department of health will have an extensive exhibit as will also the Ulster County Farm Bureau and the Ulster county home economics department.

Among the prominent exhibitors will be E. Winter's Sons, W. H. Rider, Gregory & Co., and the L. B. Van Wagenen Co., of Kingston, H. Levine and J. A. Brown of Ellenville.

Saugerties Farms of Saugerties and the High Point Stock Farm of Olive Bridge are to exhibit a complete line of thoroughbred Guernsey cattle. Entries are now being received in large numbers and the exhibits are sure to be worth seeing.

The fair grounds are to be policed by a detail of state troopers, thus insuring protection and complete order.

MILTON.

Milton, Aug. 9.—The meeting of Milton-on-Hudson Grange on Monday evening was a most interesting and entertaining one. Manager Cochran of the Farm Bureau, and W. N. Gilles, state secretary, were listened to with profit. A delegation of thirty, including Dept. Barnes of New Paltz, Mr. McCormack of Pomona Valley Grange, also the master of Cronomer Grange, gave much enthusiasm to the meeting. Miss Florence Halllock was listened to with pleasure as she rendered some fine piano solos.

Miss Gladys Taber of Poughkeepsie is visiting her cousin, Lois Taber. Another musical treat at Grange was a quartet, "Beautiful Flag of Liberty," sung by Mrs. Charles R. Taber, Mrs. Conklin, F. C. Wood and Lieut. Conklin.

Major and Mrs. L. C. Tuckerman of Camp Merritt, N. J., visited Attorney and Mrs. Ball recently.

Judson DeWitt and family moved on Rose property near Marlborough on Tuesday.

A small number of workers met at the Red Cross rooms on Tuesday p. m. owing largely to the extreme hot weather. Several ladies took materials home with them to make up as far as possible the required and needed garments, bandages, etc. Women and girls who can sew are requested that their help is needed. VIGOROUS CLOTHES FOR VIGOROUS DAYS

If there's any one thing about clothes that expresses the wearer, it's the vigor in them. Vigorous styles have the "pep" and "punch" and "get-there" spirit about them; they express strength. It takes real designing ability to put these into a garment and leave the fussiness out. That's why

appeal so forcibly to men who are careful in the choice of clothes. Also there's vigor—strength—in the fabrics and the tailoring. These too, are things that men want. And there's vigor in a store policy that safeguards these qualities to you in the face of upset conditions.

Commenced Partition Action.
Mendie Rober, plaintiff, through his counsel, H. Westlake Coons of Ellenville, has commenced an action against Margie Rober, Charles and Beckie Slutsky, Hyman Virshup, Jonas Nassau and Morris Meisler, defendants, for the partition and division of the premises known as the "Cantine Homestead Farm," valued at $19,999, located in the town of Wavering. Mr. Rober is owner of one-half of the premises.

Just to Ourselves.

It is hard to be really just to ourselves. A great many of us are more lenient to our own faults than with those of other people, while not a few ensure themselves far more harshly for a false step than they would think of censuring another. What we should strive for is to be neither too exacting nor too lenient where our shortcomings are concerned, but to give ourselves the benefit of simple justice.

Ancient Holland Delicacy.

The kutsput of Holland is still made after the manner of the one left by the Spaniards who cooked this dish over their campfires the day in October long ago when they were driven by the Hollanders over the dykes and out of their country. The stew resembles our "mulligan" of the Northwest and the peppercorn of the West Indies, only the latter has crab meat and dumplings added.

Just to Ourselves.

It is hard to be really just to ourselves. A great many of us are more lenient with our own faults than with those of other people, while not a few ensure themselves far more harshly for a false step than they would think for censuring another. What we should strive for is to be neither too exacting nor too lenient where our shortcomings are concerned, but to give ourselves the benefit of simple justice.

Ancient Holland Delicacy.

The butspot of Holland is still made after the manner of the one left by the Spaniards who cooked this dish over their campfires the day in October long ago when they were driven by the Hollanders over the dykes and out of their country. The stew resembles our "mulligan" of the Northwest and the pepperpot of the West Indies, only the latter has crab meat and dumplings added.

FIGHTING DOES NOT GIVE OUR TROOPS ENOUGH EXERCISE.

A soldier's life is never so strenuous but that he needs athletic exercise to keep him in trim. That's why the Y. M. C. A., at the government's request, has sent over men who can stage boxing matches as well as training soldiers in baseball and in track and field events.

MUSIC AT THE POINT.

Special Programs by Colonial City Band on Saturday and Sunday.

There are now being given at Kingston Point Park two special programs by the Colonial City Band. George H. Muller, conductor, one on Saturday the other on Sunday. It is pointed to the fact that the fair will be a long time since the Point Park has been as popular as this summer, especially since this term of intense heat. On every side one hears the comment that the band concerts have done a very great deal to bring about this popularity. This week Saturday's program will include the following numbers:

Saturday Afternoon and Evening. Star Spangled Banner. Elks March. Moonlight Blues. Southern Gales. Don't Try to Steal the Sweetheart of a Soldier. Selections from "Jack O'Lantern." Intermission. Camouflage. Missouri Waltz. Giddy, Gliddap, Go on, Go on. Pozzo, America.

Sunday Afternoon and Evening. Star Spangled Banner. Blue, White and Red. Simple Aven. Zampa.

We're in It, We're in It. Intermission. Chantryman's March. Cavalry (solo for Trumpet) Mr. Hoyer. All Hail to Marshal Joffre. Excerpts from "Eileen." Smiles. America.

JUST PEPPERS.

Many Possibilities For Use of This Garden Product.

Peter Piper may have picked a peck of peppers, but the pickling will have to be left to you. Here are some directions for that and other delightful things to be done with peppers, suggested by the United States Food Administration.

Pickled Peppers.

Cut the stems out in a circle with a sharp knife and lay them aside to replace later. Fill the peppers with a mixture of finely chopped cabbage, grated horse radish, mustard seed and salt. Wash the peppers in cold water; fill them; replace the stem; tie them with a soft cord to keep the lids in; pack them in stone jars and fill up with cold sharp vinegar. They will be ready for use in two weeks.

Sweetbread in Peppers.

Parboil sweetbreads, cool and cut in small pieces; there should be one cup. Melt two tablespoons savory fat, add two tablespoons corn flour, and pour on gradually one cup of chicken stock; then add two tablespoons of cream. Season with salt, paprika and Worcestershire sauce. Cut a slice from the stem of six peppers, remove seeds and parboil peppers fifteen minutes. Cool, fill and bake for thirty minutes.

Further Suggestions.

Peppers may be parboiled, stuffed with any sort of a mixture—cooked rice and meat, hominy grits, cornmeal, mush, corn, rice and nuts—and baked. Peppers combined with cheese are very good as a salad. Peppers and cabbage also are very good.

ULSTER COUNTY FAIR.

Many Fine Exhibitions and Three Days' Racing.

Final arrangements are being made for the Ulster county fair, which will be held on August 20-23, 1918, at Ellenville. Everything points to the fact that the fair will indeed be the best yet.

The board of managers has introduced an extra day of racing and the program of the races is as follows:

Wednesday, August 21.

2:17 class pace or trot, purse, $300. 2:35 class pace or trot, purse, $200. Name race for Ulster county horses, purse, $150.

Thursday, August 22.

2:21 class pace or trot, purse, $300. 2:35 class pace or trot, purse, $300. Directum 1 will go against the track record.

Friday, August 23.

2:30 class pace or trot, purse, $200. Free for all. Directum 1 barred, purse, $500.

Among the innovations of the fair will be the Ulster county spelling bee on the first day of the fair. The winner of this revival of old time spelling match will represent Ulster county at the state match to be held at Syracuse state fair. That day there will also be a contest to pick a farm boy to represent Ulster county at the state farm boys' camp at the state fair.

The state department of health will have an extensive exhibit, as will also the Ulster County Farm Bureau and the Ulster county home economics department.

Among the prominent exhibitors will be E. Winter's Sons, W. H. Rider, Gregory & Co., and the L. B. Van Wageningen Co. of Kingston, H. Levine and J. A. Brown of Ellenville.

Saugerties Farms of Saugerties and the High Point Stock Farm of Olive Bridge are to exhibit a complete line of thoroughbred Guernsey cattle. Entries are now being received in large numbers and the exhibits are sure to be worth seeing.

The fair grounds are to be policed by a detail of state troopers, thus insuring protection and complete order.

VIGOROUS CLOTHES FOR VIGOROUS DAYS

If there's any one thing about clothes that expresses the wearer, it's the vigor in them. Vigorous styles have the "pep" and "punch" and "get-there" spirit about them; they express strength. It takes real designing ability to put these into a garment and leave the fussiness out. That's why

appeal so forcibly to men who are careful in the choice of clothes. Also there's vigor—strength—in the fabrics and the tailoring. These too, are things that men want. And there's vigor in a store policy that safeguards these qualities to you in the face of upset conditions.

ONLY ONE COUNTRY FOR THE SAMMIES

Says Lieut. Van Oostenbrugge Who Censors Hundreds of Letters From the Soldiers, and That Is the U. S. A.

The following letter was received on August 7th by the Rev. and Mrs.
C. Van Oostenbrugge from their son, Lieut. Horace B. Van Oostenbrugge, Co. I, 109th Infantry, Empire (27th) Division:

Somewhere in France,
June 20, 1918.

Dear Mother and Dad:

Another Sunday in France and certainly it is a perfect one. The day is bright and clear with a fine, cool wind blowing an ideal day to sleep if we did not have just so much work to do. Capt. Hull, Lieut. Sterling, Lieut. Huntsmaster and myself have the good fortune of being together in one house this time. We are with an old lady who is a refugee. Her husband has been killed and her two sons are in the army. She has been living here all alone since shortly after the war started. Yesterday some refugees came into the place next door. They had a wagon load of just a few things, like bedding, pictures, a stove and chairs. Surely a pitiful sight to see them. Real old men, women and children. You never see young men unless they are in uniform.

Last night Capt. Hull, Wolfe and myself took the company bicycles and rode over to the good-sized town, about 2 1/2 miles from here, looking for some butter, which we did not get. We went mostly for the ride and to see the country hereabout.

It is odd to see each house walled in with a ten or twelve foot stone wall. The gardens and barn yards walled in with a six to eight foot wall. Suppose they have been standing since the year one, by the looks of them. In the country the people still use open fire places to cook over, besides which they have a stove with legs three feet long,
the body being three feet long, one and a half feet wide and one foot deep. Fire box in one end, with one large hole over it. Oven is in the center with a large hole over that and a water tank in the other end. Believe me, it is some stove to get a meal over. Wood being hard to get, we can use only brush and dead limbs that we may scout up.

The roads here are very good, but by the time the U. S. A. is one quarter as old as France we shall have roads which can't be beaten by any country.

There is no getting away from the fact that France is a beautiful country. Its valleys are wonderful.
It isn't possible to picture them standing on the hill side and tell of the wheat, rye and oat fields scattered along the hillside with "uppers" of new mown hay raising their heads above the waving grain.
Here and there are small patches of woods on the hillside, too steep to cultivate, and to top it off a regular network of roads, showing up white in the moonlight, leading to or beyond the three or four villages, whose church spires can be seen over the hills. The wheat and rye fields are beautiful in the day time, as they are red with poppies about two and a half feet from the ground, and among the heads of waving grain a blue haze is caused by the blue corn flower or bachelor's buttons, thereby making the whole country side a most beautiful flower garden.

The houses of the better class are made prettier still by the roses, roses of every kind. Wish I could send some home to you.

We are drilling hard, but sticking close to our own system, as we have found after being under both the English and the French, that they can only give us pointers, and we can show them a lot they never dreamed was possible. We are Americans first, last and all the time and action is what we get fat on.

Now about myself. I am in perfect health. Happy as one can be, being so far from home. Eat three good, big square meals a day.
Am sleeping well. You know how I can do that little thing. Haven't received any mail in over two weeks, so don't know whether you get mine. I sure enjoy your letters, mother, as they give me all the news. Don't know as much about the war as you do.

With love to you and dad and all,
your own loving son,

HORACE

In a letter dated in the early part of July, he tells of a thirty mile hike towards the front. Then of a further move of about three days by motor truck, in which he further dilates on the topographical beauty of France, but adds, "Yet I shall be glad to again set foot on good U. S.
A. soil. There is but one country for us Sammies. You sure would know it if you had to censor a hundred or more letter every night or two, as I do."

Following is a letter dated July 19, somewhere in France, received
August 6:

Mother Dear:

Received your letter of June 23,
with one from Florence (his wife).
Last night we left the trenches for a rest, after being in them for a week or more, holding a position. We were lucky enough to come through without the loss of a single man. I think ours was the only company of our regiment who were on the line which could say that, and believe me, we are very thankful to God that we can say it. We know that the prayers of our wives and mothers back home are answered and that God is with our armies in the field. Don't worry mother as God has and will continue to protect those who trust in Him and who ask His help and guidance.

Will write again Sunday. Can hardly see what I am doing, as it is about dark and we are in the woods.
Cannot have lights, for though a good way back from the line, an enemy plane might see us.
Took a bath, washed and mended my underclothes this afternoon.
Thank you mother for the good time you gave Florence while she was with you. Cannot thank you enough for that.

Love to dad and you mother,
dear.

As always, your loving son,
HORACE.

ORANGE COUNTY FAIR.

Food Resources of County Will Be Displayed.

The 78th annual exhibition of the Orange County Agricultural Society will be a great patriotic exhibition of the agricultural achievements of 1918. Our farms are a great military base in the national emergency. Orange county ranks high among the counties of the state, and our farmers are proud of their food resources, which will be displayed at the fair, August 13, 14, 15 and 16.

On Tuesday all soldiers in uniform will be admitted free to the fair grounds, and every courtesy shown them. The ladies will be allowed in the grandstand without charge on Tuesday.

Wednesday will be Patriotic Day, with addresses by prominent national speakers and a grand parade of our Home Defense Guards.

Thursday is Grange Day, when there will be a parade of the members of the organization with floats and decorated autos. State Master S. J. Lowell will deliver an address in the afternoon in the Farm Bureau and Grange tent. Chester, Brookside, Otisville and possibly other granges will have booths, in which the products of the various sections of the county will be displayed.

The spelling bee on Friday will be participated in by those who are eligible by a previous contest in the schools. The winners of the spelling bee at the fair will be contestants at the state fair spelling bee, at Syracuse.

There will also be the lighter diversions and amusements of the most interesting character.

Remember the Grand Circuit racing every day by the fastest horses in the country.

Will Hold Convention at Albany
August 20-21.

Albany, Aug. 9.—An up-state conference of the New York State Woman's Land Army will be held at Albany, August 20-21, to mark the opening of a big drive for membership in the organization that is providing the state's farms with women laborers.

Announcement was made at the headquarters of the up-state division of the army, at 12 Pine street, yesterday that the conference will be opened at 11:30 on Tuesday, August 20th by Governor Whitman, who has already endorsed the Land Army movement and given it his heartiest support. It will be attended by agricultural experts from all parts of the state, by camp supervisors, farmerettes and Farm Bureau managers, county food production chairmen, as well as by practical farmers who have employed members of the units and who will report on the efficiency of their work.

Theodore Roosevelt has been invited to attend the meeting and deliver the closing address on Wednesday morning at 11:30. William F.
Wilson, secretary of labor, has also been asked to address the meeting.
Ex-Governor Martin H. Glynn will speak on the importance of the movement in connection with food conservation.

GIBBONS COMING HOME.

Daring Correspondent Wounded
With Marines Will Lecture.

Floyd Gibbons, war correspondent of Chicago Tribune, who was severely wounded on June 4th, while going "over the top" with the United States Marines at the first battle of Chateau Thierry, will return to this country about September 1. He is now back at the front, where he insisted going after his discharge from the base hospital at Paris, where he was taken when wounded.

On his arrival here, Mr. Gibbons has arranged to tour the country.
He has a personal story to tell of the fighting of the Marines. As an eye-witness to their bravery, his story is certain to be sensational and thrilling.

In a letter to a friend in this country, Mr. Gibbons wrote he was bringing personal messages to their friends and relatives from thousands of the bravest men on the face of the earth. The exploits of the daring correspondent would, of themselves make a tale of adventure it would be hard to match.

He expects to remain in this country only a short time for he promised the men he has been living, eating, sleeping and even fighting with, to be back in time to step across the Rhine with them.

Cull Hens in Summer.

The summer is the best time to cull out poor producing hens, according to the State College of Agriculture. In order to make a good record, a hen must lay practically throughout the year. The poultry authorities say that in order to be a good producer, a hen must be a heavy eater; hence, she will require large abdominal capacity to hold eggs and food. When a hen stops laying in the summer she "shrinks up" and has a hard, tight skin. The yellow skinned breeds turn yellow or they put on fat after ceasing to lay. Bright yellow legs or beak on fowls in July or August indicate that the birds have not laid for some time, or are poor producers. In either case they should be discarded unless they have been raising chickens. Perhaps the easiest and surest way of culling out the poor hen is to discard the early molters. Contrary to popular opinion, the early molters, with only occasional exceptions, are not good fall producing birds. A bulletin,
"How to Select Laying Hens," may be obtained from the Farm Bureau office, or by writing to the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca for Extension Bulletin 21.

SOLDIERS' TEETH

Vermont's quota was 1,049 men. 5,658 men were examined before the draft was filled. 432, or 17 per cent were rejected because their teeth were not sound enough to keep them well and strong. ONLY ONE COUNTRY FOR THE SAMMIES

Says Lieut. Van Oostenbrugge Who Censors Hundreds of Letters From the Soldiers, and That Is the U. S. A.

The following letter was received on August 7th by the Rev. and Mrs. C. Van Oostenbrugge from their son, Lieut. Horace B. Van Oostenbrugge, Co. I, 109th Infantry, Empire (27th) Division:

Somewhere in France, June 20, 1918.

Dead Mother and Dad: Another Sunday in France and certainly it is a perfect one. The day is bright and clear with a fine, cool wind blowing, an ideal day to sleep if we did not have just so much work to do. Capt. Hull, Lieut. Sterling, Lieut. Huntsmaster and myself have the good fortune of being together in one house this time. We are with an old lady who is a refugee. Her husband has been killed and her two sons are in the artillery. She has been living here all alone since shortly after the war started. Yesterday some more refugees came into the place next door. They had a wagon load of just a few things like bedding, pictures, a stove and chairs. Surely a pitiful sight to see them. Real old men, women and children. You never see young men unless they are in uniform.

Last night Capt. Hull, Wolfe and myself took the company bicycles and rode over to a good-sized town, about 2 1/2 miles from here, looking for some butter, which we did not get. We went mostly for the ride and to see the country hereabout.

It is odd to see each house walled in with a ten or twelve foot stone wall. The gardens and barn yards walled in with a six to eight foot wall. Suppose they have been standing since the year one, by the looks of them. In the country the people still use open fire places to cook over, besides which they have a stove with legs three feet long, the body being three feet long, one and a half feet wide and one foot deep. Fire box in one end, with one large hole over it. Oven is in the center with a large hole over that and a water tank in the other end. Believe me, it is some stove to get a meal over. Wood being hard to get, we can use only brush and dead limbs that we may scout up.

The roads here are very good, but by the time the U. S. A. is one quarter as old as France we shall have roads which can't be beaten by any country. There is no getting away from the fact that France is a beautiful country. Its valleys are wonderful. It is not possible to picture them standing on the hill side and tell of the wheat, rye and oat fields scattered along the hillside, with "uppers" of new mown hay raising their heads above the waving grain. Here and there are small patches of woods on the hillside, too steep to cultivate, and to top it off a regular network of roads, showing up white in the moonlight, leading to or beyond the three or four villages, whose church spires can be seen over the hills. The wheat and rye fields are beautiful in the day time as they are red with poppies about two and a half feet from the ground, and among the heads of waving grain a blue haze is caused by the blue corn flower or bachelor's buttons, thereby making the whole country side a most beautiful flower garden.

The houses of the better class are made prettier still by the roses, roses of every kind. Wish I could send some home to you.

We are drilling hard, but sticking close to our own system, as we have found after being under both the English and the French, that they can only give us pointers, and we can show them a lot they never dreamed was possible. We are Americans first, last and all the time and action is what we get fat on.

Now about myself. I am in perfect health. Happy as one can be, being so far from home. Eat three good, big square meals a day. Am sleeping well. You know how I can do that little thing. Haven't received any mail in over two weeks, so don't know whether you get mine. I sure enjoy your letters, mother, as they give me all the news. Don't know as much about the war as you do.

With love to you and dad and all, your own loving son,

HORACE.

In a letter dated in the early part of July, he tells of a thirty mile hike towards the front. Then of a further move of nearly three days by motor truck, in which he further dilates on the topographical beauty of France, but adds, "Yet I shall be glad to again set foot on good U. S. A. soil. There is but one country for us Sammies. You sure would know it if you had to censor a hundred or more letter every night or two, as I do."

Following is a letter dated July 19, somewhere in France, received August 6:

Mother Dear: Received your letter of June 23, with one from Florence (his wife.) Last night we left the trenches for a rest, after being in them for a week or more, holding a position to were lucky enough to come through without the loss of a single man. I think ours was the only company of our regiment who were on the line which could say that, and believe me, we are very thankful to God that we can say it. We know that the prayers of our wives and mothers back home are answered and that God is with our armies in the field. Don't worry mother as God has and will continue to protect those who trust in Him and who ask His help and guidance.

Will write again Sunday. Can hardly see what I am doing, as it is about dark and we are in the woods. Cannot have lights, for though a good way back from the line, an enemy plane might see us.

Took a bath, washed and mended my underclothes this afternoon. Thank you mother for the good time you gave Florence while she was with you. Cannot thank you enough for that.

Love to dad and you mother, dear.

As always, you loving son,

HORACE.

ORANGE COUNTY FAIR.

Food Resources of County Will Be Displayed.

The 78th annual exhibition of the Orange County Agricultural Society will be a great patriotic exhibition of the agricultural achievements of 1918. Our farms are a great military base in the national emergency. Orange county ranks high among the counties of the state, and our farmers are proud of their food resources, which will be displayed at the fair, August 13, 14, 15 and 16.

On Tuesday all soldiers in uniform will be admitted free to the fair grounds, and every courtesy shown them. The ladies will be allowed in the grandstand without charge on Tuesday.

Wednesday will be Patriotic Day, with addresses by prominent national speakers and a grand parade of our Home Defense Guards.

Thursday is Grange Day, when there will be a parade of the members of the organization with floats and decorated autos. State Master S. J. Lowell will deliver an address in the afternoon in the Farm Bureau and Grange tent. Chester, Brookside, Otisville and possibly other granges will have booths, in which the products of the various sections of the county will be displayed.

The spelling bee on Friday will be participated in by those who are eligible by a previous contest in the schools. The winners of the spelling bee at the fair will be contestants at the state fair spelling bee, at Syracuse.

There will also be the lighter diversions and amusements of the most interesting character.

Remember the Grand Circuit racing every day by the fastest horses in the country.

Will Hold Convention at Albany August 20-21.

Albany, Aug. 9.—An up-state conference of the New York State Woman's Land Army will be held at Albany, August 20-21, to mark the opening of a big drive for membership in the organization that is providing the state's farms with women laborers.

Announcement was made at the headquarters of the up-state division of the army, at 12 Pine street, yesterday that the conference will be opened at 11:30 on Tuesday, August 20th by Governor Whitman, who has already endorsed the Land Army movement and given it his hearty support. It will be attended by agricultural experts from all parts of the state, by camp supervisors, farmettes and Farm Bureau managers, county food production chairmen, as well as by practical farmers who have employed members of the units and who will report on the efficiency of their work.

Theodore Roosevelt has been invited to attend the meeting and deliver the closing address on Wednesday morning at 11:30. William B. Wilson, secretary of labor, has also been asked to address the meeting. Ex-Governor Martin H. Glynn will speak on the importance of the movement in connection with food conservation.

GIBBONS COMING HOME.

Daring Correspondent Wounded With Marines Will Lecture.

Floyd Gibbons, war correspondent of Chicago Tribune, who was severely wounded on June 4th, while going "over the top" with the United States Marines at the first battle of Chateau Thierry, will return to this county about September 1. He is now back at the front, where he is slated going after his discharge from the base hospital at Paris, where he was taken when wounded.

On his arrival here, Mr. Gibbons has arranged to tour the country. He has a personal story to tell of the fighting of the Marines. As an eye-witness to their bravery, his story is certain to be sensational and thrilling.

In a letter to a friend in this country, Mr. Gibbons wrote he was bringing personal messages to their friends and relatives from thousands of the bravest men on the face of the earth. The exploits of the daring correspondent would, of themselves make a tale of adventure it would be hard to match.

He expects to remain in this country only a short time for he promised the men he has been living, eating, sleeping and even fighting with, to be back in time to step across the Rhine with them.

Cull Hens in Summer.

The summer is the best time to cull out poor producing hens, according to the State College of Agriculture. In order to make a good record, a hen must lay practically throughout the year. The poultry authorities say that in order to be a good producer, a hen must be a heavy eater; hence, she will require large abdominal capacity to hold eggs and food. When a hen stops laying in the summer she "shrinks up" and has a hard, tight skin. The yellow skinned breeds turn yellow or they put on fat after ceasing to lay. Bright yellow legs or beak on fowls in July or August indicate that the birds have not laid for some time, or are poor producers. In either case they should be discarded unless they have been raising chickens. Perhaps the easiest and surest way of culling out the poor hen is to discard the early molter. Contrary to popular opinion, the early molters, with only occasional exceptions, are not good fall producing birds. A bulletin, "How to Select Laying Hens," may be obtained from the Farm Bureau offices or by writing to the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca for Extension Bulletin 21.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

"While it is hotter here than all darnation, far hotter yet is the Kaiser's destination," softly warbled the City Hall Poet this morning as he placed a wad of gum in his mouth and after skillfully turning it over and over he tapped the keys of his typewriter in an aimless way, he dashed off another hot weather epic reading: "While we think it is awful hot still it is mighty cold to what awaits old Kaiser Bill."

The City Hall Poet then turned with an apologetic smile to the City Hall Oracle and remarked, "It is in my system and I got to get it out." "That's all right," replied the Oracle, "I guess we can stand it, but what do you think of the request of the gas company?" The Poet thoughtfully tapped a key here and there and then wrote: "They have boosted the price of coal and milk, and the price of tobacco goes up in smoke, and now they want to boost the gas; alack and alas, paying my bills just keeps me broke." "You said something," replied the Oracle.

Since the police department have placed a motorcycle cop on duty there has been a decrease in the number of speeders and traffic violators in Kingston, which is a matter of congratulation.

Along Broadway signs have been placed where they can be seen by auto drivers reading: "Speed 15 Miles per Hour."

It has been reported to the board of public works that the incandescent lights on South Wall street, Wilbur avenue and Albert street have been out for over two weeks.

"Eat Beans."

Albany Aug. 9.—"Eat Beans" will be the new food slogan until the hundred and twenty thousand bushels of surplus beans in New York state are eaten up. In comparison with meat, beans, even at a price above that of pre-war times, are cheap and they are a good meat substitute if with them in the same meal some milk, cheese or eggs are used.

Rules for getting the most nutrition from beans are given in a bulletin on "What To Do With Beans," is available to the housewives of New York state through the State Food Commission, 205 State street, Albany, N. Y., the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y., and through the county conservation agents and county food administrators.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10 cents in silver or stamps for our up-to-date fall and winter 1918-1919 catalogue, containing 550 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 39 of the various, simple stitches) all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

"Eat Beans."

Albany Aug. 9.—"Eat Beans" will be the new food slogan until the hundred and twenty thousand bushels of surplus beans in New York state are eaten up. In comparison with meat, beans, even at a price above that of pre-war times, are cheap and they are a good meat substitute if with them in the same meal some milk, cheese or eggs are used.

Rules for getting the most nutrition from beans are given in a bulletin on "What To Do With Beans," is available to the housewives of New York state through the State Food Commission, 205 State street, Albany, N. Y., the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y., and through the county conservation agents and county food administrators.

12,000 GERMANS MADE PRISONERS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Aug. 9.—One entire German division has been captured by the Franco-British troops in their offensive on the Picardy front, according to Henri I. Bideau, leading military writer.

Recently it has been estimated that there are 12,000 men in a German division.

Chauffeurs Examination.

Secretary of State Hugo has made arrangements for an examination for chauffeurs at Kingston on August 30, beginning at 9:30 o'clock at the city hall. There will be the usual road test, followed by a written examination of ten questions, both requiring a knowledge not only of the machine but of the general traffic rules of this state.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Aug. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. George Fairbrother of Green street are visiting their son, William Fairbrother, in New York city.

Mrs. Reginald Van Leuven of Broadway spent Thursday with her father at Esopus.

John Puzek of 55 Hanratty street, Kingston, has opened up a first class shoemaker shop in the building of the late Kate M. Ronk on Broadway. Mr. Puzek ought to receive the patronage of the people of this place and vicinity. This is what the place needed for some time.

Mrs. Anita Sherman of Groton and Mrs. Charles Neice and daughters, Miriam and Lillian, of Main street, spent Friday with Miss Julia Van Aken on Railroad avenue.

Miss Jennie Miller of Kingston was the guest of her sister, Miss Louise Miller, on Valley View avenue Friday.

Benjamin Wells of Broadway has sold his five passenger Ford to J. Sleight's Sons, Sleightsburgh.

Ice cream is in great demand in this place. Both ice cream parlors were sold out clear Wednesday evening at an early hour. Many people were disappointed as the extremely hot wave caused a great rush for something cool and refreshing.

Employers Meeting at Newburgh.

There will be a meeting of all employers of labor in industries at the Palace Hotel, Newburgh, Tuesday, August 13, at 2:30 p. m. The matter of supply and distribution of labor under the Federal Employment system will be explained and a committee appointed, through which will be appointed a member of the advisory committee representing the manufacturers of Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster and Orange counties, the central office of which will be in Newburgh. It is important that all such employers attend.

Large Coal Shed Collapses.

A large coal shed of the Fifth Carpet Co., at Cornwall, located on a switch of the C. & W. R. R., collapsed recently. The shed was filled with coal and the heavy trains passing over the road is believed to have caused the damage.

GERMANY OUTLAW SAYS BALFOUR

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Aug. 9.—"The abyss between the Allies and the Central Powers will be immeasurable until the true policy of Germany is changed," Foreign Secretary Balfour said today.

"There is small hope that Germany willingly will become a member of a peaceful society of nations," Balfour continued. "To return the African colonies to Germany would mean submarine bases in all the trade routes of the world and creation of a black army for the purpose of aggression."

"This would be a calamity to mankind, unless Germany changes heart or an Allied victory convinced everybody in Germany that their policy is a failure."

FLAG PRESENTATION.

Summer Guests Unite For Flagging Ceremony at Plattkill.

The guests of West View Farm, a summer resort of Plattkill—by voluntary contributions—purchased a flag for school district No. 10, and presented it to Mr. Wesley, the newly elected trustee for this district. The presentation was made in the entertainment hall connected with West View Farm, in a pretty speech made by Miss Lavina See, of New York city. Mr. Wesley, in accepting the flag for the school, made some appropriate remarks on its beauty, emblematic nature, etc. (Mr. Wesley has two sons now serving in the army, Corporal V. W. Wesley, "over there," Private Charles Wesley, in camp. Also several nephews and cousins in different branches of the service.) The guests formed in line and singing patriotic songs, marched to the school. The flag was unfurled and raised with a firing salute and all joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner." The Oath of Allegiance was then recited by Miss Dorothy Swentzel, a child of four years. Master Wesley Harris, a patriotic pupil, has volunteered to look after the raising and lowering of the flag and to see that no enemy of the country attempts to harm it.

K. OF C. WAR WORK.

Order Now Has 255 Secretaries In France.

William J. Mulligan, chairman of the Knights of Columbus Committee on War Activities, in an address before the Order's "Victory Convention" at the Waldorf Tuesday night for the first time issued an official statement, containing facts and figures, covering the big work being done by the Knights here and abroad.

Mr. Mulligan declared that since the drive for secretaries started a few weeks ago 255 secretaries have reached France and 125 others are being sent abroad at the rate of about 75 a week, he said.

In the big training camps and cantonments in this country, he said, there are 485 secretaries and others are being appointed daily. Twenty-eight new Knights of Columbus buildings are under construction in the United States.

ITALIAN SOLDIERS

Make Trip Around World to Rejoin Comrades.

Wrightstown, N. J., Aug. 7.—Three hundred and fifty Italian soldiers, on their way back to the battle line against the Austrians by way of Russia, China, the Pacific Ocean, and the United States, enjoyed War Camp Community Service hospitality tonight at the Mole-Tequip Club here.

These soldiers who are accompanied by several officers were captured by the Austrians many months ago. They made their way to Russia, across Siberia into China, and thence got to the Philippines. There they took ship for the United States, and crossed the continent, reaching Camp Dix two weeks ago. They have been waiting here for transportation back to Italy, and are eagerly looking forward to sailing soon.

War Camp Community arranged tonight's party on behalf of Italians in the ranks at Camp Dix. The entertainment provided for their guests by the Italians in the American service for their compatriots consisted of music, singing, and speeches.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Aug. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. George Fairbrother of Green street are visiting their son, William Fairbrother, in New York city.

Mrs. Reginald Van Leuven of Broadway spent Thursday with her father at Esopus.

John Piszek of 55 Hanratty street, Kingston, has opened up a first class shoe store, in the building of the late Kate M. Ronk on Broadway. Mr. Piszek ought to receive the patronage of the people of this place and vicinity. This is what the place needed for some time.

Mrs. Anna Sherman of Groton and Mrs. Charles Neice and daughters, Miriam and Lillian, of Main street, spent Friday with Miss Julia Van Aken on Railroad avenue.

Miss Jennie Miller of Kingston was the guest of her sister, Miss Louise Miller, on Valley View avenue Friday.

Benjamin Wells of Broadway has sold his five passenger Ford to J. Sleight's Sons, Sleightsburch.

Ice cream is in great demand in this place. Both ice cream parlors were sold out clean Wednesday evening at an early hour. Many people were disappointed as the extremely hot wave caused a great rush for something cool and refreshing.

Employees Meeting at Newburgh.

There will be a meeting of all employers of labor in industries at the Palatine Hotel, Newburgh, Tuesday, August 13, at 2:30 p. m. The matter of supply and distribution of labor under the Federal Employment system will be explained and a committee appointed, through which will be appointed a member of the advisory committee representing the manufacturers of Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster and Orange counties, the central office of which will be in Newburgh. It is important that all such employers attend.

Large Coal Shed Collapses.

A large coal shed of the Fifth Carpet Co., at Cornwall, located on a switch of the O. & W. R. R., collapsed recently. The shed was filled with coal and the heavy trains passing over the road is believed to have caused the damage.

GERMANY OUTLAW SAYS BALFOUR

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 9.—"The abyss between the Allies and the Central Powers will be immeasurable until the true policy of Germany is changed," Foreign Secretary Balfour said today.

"There is small hope that Germany willingly will become a member of a peaceful society of nations," Balfour continued. "To return the African colonies to Germany would mean submarine bases in all the trade routes of the world and creation of a black army for the purpose of aggression."

"This would be a calamity to mankind, unless Germany changes heart or an Allied victory convinced everybody in Germany that their policy is a failure."

FLAG PRESENTATION.

Summer Guests Unite For Pleasing Ceremony at Platekill.
The guests of West View Farm, a summer resort of Platekill—by voluntary contributions—purchased a flag for school district No. 10, and presented it to Mr. Wesley, the newly elected trustee for this district. The presentation was made in the entertainment hall connected with West View Farm, in a pretty speech made by Miss Lavina See, of New York city. Mr. Wesley, in accepting the flag for the school, made some appropriate remarks on its heavy emblematic nature, etc. (Mr. Wesley has two sons now serving in the army, Corporal V. W. Wesley, "over there," Private Charles Wesley in camp, also several nephews and cousins in different branches of the service.) The guests formed in line and singing patriotic songs, marched to the school. The flag was unfurled and raised with a firing salute and all joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner." The Oath of Allegiance was then recited by Miss Dorothy Swentzel, a child of four years. Master Wesley Harris, a

ITALIAN SOLDIERS

Make Trip Around World to Rejoin Comrades.
Wrightstown, N. J., Aug. 7.—Three hundred and fifty Italian soldiers, on their way back to the battle line against the Austrians by way of Russia, China, the Pacific Ocean, and the United States, enjoyed War Camp Community Service hospitality tonight at the Mole-Tequip Club here.

These soldiers who are accompanied by several officers were captured by the Austrians many months ago. They made their way to Russia, across Siberia into China, and thence got to the Philippines. There they took ship for the United States, and crossed the continent, reaching Camp Dix two weeks ago. They have been waiting here for transportation back to Italy, and are eagerly looking forward to sailing soon.

War Camp Community arranged tonight's party on behalf of Italians in the ranks at Camp Dix. The entertainment provided for their guests by the Italians in the American service for their compatriots consisted of music, singing, and speeches.

K. OF C. WAR WORK.

Order Now Has 255 Secretaries In France.
William J. Mulligan, chairman of the Knights of Columbus Committee on War Activities, in an address before the Order's "Victory Convention" at the Waldorf Tuesday night for the first time issued an official statement, containing facts and figures, covering the big work being done by the Knights here and abroad.

Mr. Mulligan declared that since the drive for secretaries started a few weeks ago 255 secretaries have reached France and 125 others are ready to sail. Secretaries are now being sent abroad at the rate of about 75 a week, he said.

In the big training camps and cantonments in this country, he said, there are 485 secretaries and others are being appointed daily. Twenty-eight new Knights of Columbus buildings are under construction in the United States.

UNPATRIOTIC MEN SUITABLY PUNISHED

Refuse to Stand When National Anthem is Sung—They Have Lost Their Government Jobs and Must Go to War.

Earl Bullis and Fay Bullis have lost their jobs in the Watervliet arsenal at Watervliet, N. Y., and have been taken from the deferred list in the selective draft and placed in class 1-A for immediate service, as the result of their failure to stand up when the "Star Spangled Banner" was played in Proctor's theatre, Troy, Wednesday night.

The men were discharged from the arsenal by Lieutenant Colonel J. E. Munroe, Ord. Dept., N. A., the commanding officer there, who stated "this arsenal will not retain in its employ any person who possesses such lack of patriotism as has been displayed by these men."

There was nearly a riot in the theatre when the men refused to stand while the national anthem was being played.

HURLEY.
Hurley, Aug. 8.—Red Cross work in the village is going on actively, in spite of the heat and humidity. On account of a large amount of material just delivered to the branch here many workers are needed to complete the garments by September first when they must be ready for delivery. The entertainment and supper given lately in Lomontville was under the auspices of the Lomontville unit of the Hurley Red Cross.

The large number present at the supper taxed the energies of those in charge, but the result, $88, repaid amply the work involved. This amount will be quite an addition to the treasury.

An entertainment is planned for the evening of August 21. This is also for the benefit of the Hurley Red Cross work. The entertainment will be given on the piazza and lawn of the Wynkoop farms and a fine program and refreshments are promised. Miss Polce of Kingston will bring out a lot of her scholars who will give some very pretty folk dances. In addition there will be songs, recitations and a fine social time. Ice cream and cake will be on sale during the evening. Do not forget the date.

Miss Alice Arnst who is engaged at the Overlook Mountain House at High View, Sullivan county, spent Monday evening at her home in Hurley.

Mrs. Chipp of Kingston is spending a few days at the Ten Eyck homestead.

Grant Smith writes from Baltimore that he is busy, likes his work and has found the "hottest place on the map."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elting and Billy were guests at the Markle House on Sunday.

Miss Neal of Plainfield, N. J., is visiting at the Hillier homestead.

William Burtons of New York city is a visitor at the Dumond homestead.

Mrs. Liden and Mrs. Scheib are at the home of Mrs. Liden.

Miss Ellen Smith and Miss Clara Liden are visiting in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Townsend of Brooklyn and their three daughters, the Misses Grace, Dorothy and Virginia Townsend, are visiting at the Johnston homestead. This movement is well known in this section, having taught school for a number of years hereabouts. He is now Professor at the Commercial High School in Brooklyn. He has three sons in the army, two of whom are already in France.

The engagement is announced of Miss Myrtle Slater to George Brown. Miss Hazel Broadhead came home Wednesday for a visit.

Miss Anna Osterhoudt has her sister visiting her.

CREW NO. 1 HELD A FLAG RAISING

Another Flag Raising at Kingston Shipbuilding Plant—Miss Louise Schoonmaker Was Sponsor And Flag Unfurled By a Full Blooded Indian.

Miss Louise Schoonmaker, daughter of John D. Schoonmaker, president of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation, acted as sponsor for the flag, which was unfurled by Daniel Shongo, a full blooded Iroquois Indian, employed on the yard.

While the flag was being raised, "The Colors" was rendered on a bugle by Worthington Barnhart, another employee of the yard, who was a bugler in the army and a member of the Bailey Fire and Drum Corps.

Following the ceremonies Captain Kilbourne of Ship No. 1, presented Miss Schoonmaker with a handsome diamond lavalliere, a gift of the crew of Ship No. 1.

Mr. Shongo is a member of the Seneca branch of the Iroquois, and is capable of assisting in many other ways than flag raising, as he has studied civil engineering under the direction of Charles Latimer, who was formerly in the United States naval forces.

The flag which was raised had been purchased by the crew of the ship. The ceremonies while brief were very impressive.

ACCORD.
Accord, Aug. 8.—It is reported that David Coddington has purchased a Metz automobile.

D. E. Schoonmaker and family enjoyed an auto trip Sunday to Ocean Grove, N. J., where Mrs. Louise Schoonmaker and granddaughter, Anna, are to spend a month.

A drowning accident was narrowly avoided Tuesday evening when a young lad staying at Walter Davenport's got beyond his depth while in bathing with a crowd near the highway bridge. It seems that two boys who tried to get him out got into difficulty themselves; in the meantime a third boy caught his hand and tried to pull him out, but the desperate lad pulled this boy into the water also. Finally one of the young men nearby appeared on the scene and rescued the whole bunch.

Mrs. Earl Drake and daughter have returned to their Poughkeepsie home.

Miss Ruth Coddington is employed at Cragmoor.

Professor Hastings, who taught in our local school many years ago, was in town Wednesday.

William Foskitt is visiting friends at Catskill.

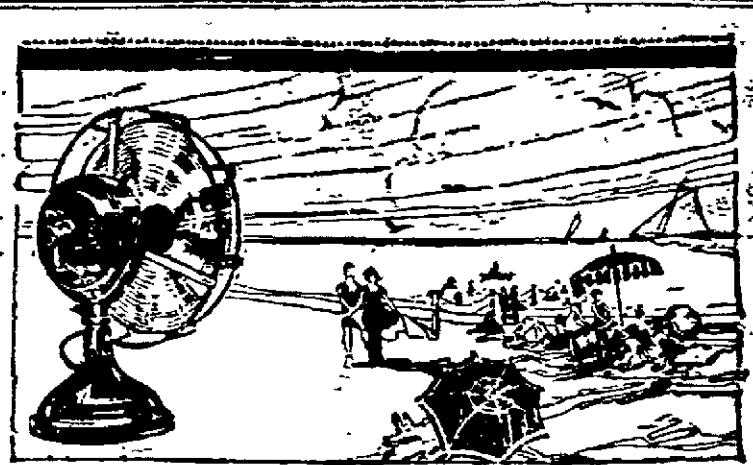

Mrs. J. C. Osterhoudt is visiting friends at Jefferson, N. Y.

UNPATRIOTIC MEN SUITABLY PUNISHED

Refuse to Stand When National Anthem is Sung—They Have Lost Their Government Jobs and Must Go to War.

Earl Bullis and Fay Bullis have lost their jobs in the Watervliet Arsenal at Watervliet, N. Y., and have been taken from the deferred list in the selective draft and placed in class 1-A for immediate service, as the result of their failure to stand up when the "Star Spangled Banner" was played in Proctor's theatre, Troy, Wednesday night.

The men were discharged from the arsenal by Lieutenant Colonel J. E. Munroe, Ord. Dept., N. A., the commanding officer there, who stated "this arsenal will not retain in its employ any person who possesses such lack of patriotism as has been displayed by these men."

There was nearly a riot in the theatre when the men refused to stand while the national anthem was being played.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Aug. 8.—Red Cross work in the village is going on actively, in spite of the heat and humidity. On account of a large amount of material just delivered to the branch here many workers are needed to complete the garments by September first when they must be ready for delivery. The entertainment and supper given lately in Lomontville was under the auspices of the Lomontville unit of the Hurley Red Cross. The large number present at the supper taxed the energies of those in charge, but the result, $80, repaid amply the work involved. This amount will be quite an addition to the treasury.

An entertainment is planned for the evening of August 21. This is also for the benefit of the Hurley Red Cross work. The entertainment will be given on the piazza and lawn of the Wynkoop farms and a fine program and refreshments are promised. Miss Boice of Kingston will bring out some of her scholars, who will give some very pretty folk dances. In addition there will be songs, recitations and a fine social time. Ice cream and cake will be on sale during the evening. Do not forget the date.

Miss Alice Arnst, who is engaged at the Overlook Mountain House at High View, Sullivan county, spent Monday evening at her home in Hurley.

Mrs. Chipp of Kingston is spending a few days at the Ten Eyck homestead.

Grant Smith, writes from Baltimore that he is busy, likes his work and has found the "hottest place on the map."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elting and Billy were guests at the Markle House on Sunday.

Miss Neal of Plainfield, N. J., is visiting at the Hiller homestead.

William Burhaus of New York city is a visitor at the Dumond homestead.

Mrs. Liden and Mrs. Scheib are at the Mason home.

Miss Ellen Smith and Miss Clara Liden are visiting in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Townsend of Brooklyn and their three daughters, the Misses Grace, Dorothy and Virginia Townsend, are visiting at the Johnston homestead.

Mr. Townsend is well known in this section, having taught school for a number of years hereabouts. He is now Professor at the Commercial High School in Brooklyn. He has three sons in the army, two of whom are already in France.

The engagement is announced of Miss Arville Slater to George Brown, Miss Hazel Brodhead came home Wednesday for a visit.

Miss Anna Osterhoudt has her sister visiting her.

CREW NO. 1 HELD A FLAG RAISING

Another Flag Raising at Kingston Shipbuilding Plant—Miss Louise Schoonmaker Was Sponsor And Flag Unfurled By a Full Blooded Indian.

The crew of Ship No. 1 on the yard of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation on the Island Dock held a flag raising at noon today, when a large 12x20 American flag was hoisted to the breezes on a forty foot staff on the bow of the ship.

Miss Louise Schoonmaker, daughter of John D. Schoonmaker, president of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation, acted as sponsor for the flag, which was unfurled by Daniel Shongo, a full blooded Iroquois Indian, employed on the yard.

While the flag was being raised, "The Colors" was rendered on a bugle by Worthington Barnhart, another employee of the yard, who was a bugler in the army and a member of the Bailey Pipe and Drum Corps. Following the ceremonies Captain Kilbourne of Ship No. 1, presented Miss Schoonmaker with a handsome diamond lavalliere, a gift of the crew of Ship No. 1.

Mr. Shongo is a member of the Seneca branch of the Iroquois, and is capable of assisting in many other ways than flag raising, as he has studied civil engineering under the direction of Charles Latimer, who was formerly in the United States naval forces.

The flag which was raised had been purchased by the crew of the ship. The ceremonies while brief were very impressive.

ACCORD.

Accord, Aug. 8.—It is reported that David Coddington has purchased a Metz automobile.

D. E. Schoonmaker and family enjoyed an auto trip Sunday to Ocean Grove, N. J., where Mrs. Louise Schoonmaker and granddaughter, Anna, are to spend a month.

A drowning accident was narrowly avoided Tuesday evening when a young lad staying at Walter Davenport's got beyond his depth while in bathing with a crowd near the highway bridge. It seems that two boys who tried to get him out got into difficulty themselves; in the meantime a third boy caught his hand and tried to pull him out, but the desperate lad pulled this boy into the water also. Finally one of the young men nearby appeared on the scene and rescued the whole bunch.

Mrs. Earl Drake and daughter have returned to their Poughkeepsie home.

Miss Ruth Coddington is employed at Cragmoor.

SUPREME COURT, ULSTER COUNTY
The Ulster County Savings Institution, plaintiff, vs. Arthur C. Baylor et al, defendants.
In pursuance and by virtue of a decree and judgment of foreclosure and sale, granted in this action on the 7th day of August, 1918, and entered in Ulster county clerk's office on the 8th day of August, 1918, I, the undersigned, referee duly appointed for such purpose, will sell at public auction at the front door of the court house in the city of Kingston, Ulster county, N. Y., on the fourth day of September, 1918, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the following lands and premises being the same as described in the complaint and judgment in this action, viz:

All those two certain lots or parcels of land situate in the city of Kingston, Ulster county, New York, on the easterly side of the Wilbur Plank Road, known as lots Nos. 4 and 5, being together one hundred feet front and rear and one hundred and thirty feet deep, bounded northerly by lands sold James Conroy one hundred and fifty feet from Greenkill avenue, southerly by lands of E. A. Ellsworth, being the same several lots conveyed to John Pettit by Ellen Fitz Wales and Maria Wales by deed dated October 2, 1882, recorded book 246 of deeds, page 296, in Ulster county clerk's office, and conveyed by John Pettit and wife to Margaret F. Geoghegan by deed dated May 26, 1885, and recorded in the Ulster county clerk's office in book of deeds No. 576, at page 417.

That said Margaret F. Geoghegan became Margaret F. Davis by marriage and died testate June 26, 1911, leaving a last will and testament wherein she devised all her real property to her sister, Catharine A. Van Aken.

Being the same premises conveyed by said Catharine A. Van Aken to Arthur C. Baylor and William G. Merritt by deed dated April 9, 1913, and recorded in Ulster county clerk's office in book of deeds No. 412, at page 369.

Dated Kingston, N. Y., August 8, 1918.

COXSACKIE FARMER DIES FROM POISON

E. J. Gerstenberg Becomes Fatally Ill From Drinking Home Made Root Beer—Contents of Stomach to Be Analyzed.

Emil J. Gerstenberg, a farmer living four miles north of Cocksackie, died Thursday noon as the result of convulsions suffered after drinking a bottle of home made root beer. Coroner I. E. Van Hoesen of Cocksackie, has pronounced death due to poisoning but reserved decision on the cause until the nature of the poison can be established.

After drinking the beer, the father complained that it tasted bitter and a short time afterward, he started for the house. Immediately on arriving home, he was taken ill, and convulsions followed. Dr. Van Hoesen was sent for and arrived at 11:45, when the man was having another convulsion from which he failed to recover.

While it looked to Dr. Van Hoesen like a case of strychnine poisoning, he sent for a representative from the Bender laboratory, who, after examining the body, performed an autopsy, taking the contents of the stomach, and the bottle, back to Albany for analysis. The coroner will await the results of the analysis before taking further action.

The story that the boy tells, according to Dr. Van Hoesen, is that he found the two bottles, in which he made the root beer, alongside of the road a few days ago, and carried them home. When he went to make the root beer, he told the coroner, the bottles which he usually used, had disappeared from the front porch where he had placed them, so he used the two bottles which he had found.

The boy said he had noticed a white substance in the bottom of one of the bottles, but that he had thought it was sugar. Coroner Van Hoesen asked the boy if he had told his sister which bottle was for the father, but he insisted he did not. District Attorney Harry McK. Curtis of Cocksackie was notified and questioned the children. He said last night that until he had heard the results of the autopsy, at least, no action would be taken.

Mrs. Gerstenberg, the mother of the children, it was said last night, had left her husband some time ago, following a shooting fracas in the house, when two shots were fired at her and her assailant could not be located.

DISHES DAINTY AND APPETIZING.

Hot fried sardines served on a bed of water cress make a nice way of serving these small tid-bits.

Chesse and Tomatoes.—Cut round slices of bread, toast brown and on each round place a slice of tomato, sprinkle with a little minced onion and green pepper, a dash of cayenne and a thick layer of grated cheese. Put into the broiler and set under the gas flame until the cheese melts. Serve piping hot.

Peanut Butter With Rice.—Take two cupsful of well cooked rice; while hot, stir in a cupful of peanut butter, a cupful of cracker crumbs, a half cupful of milk, two beaten eggs and salt and paprika to taste. Shape in a round loaf and place in a well buttered pan; bake a nice brown and serve hot with parsley.

Walnut Loaf.—Take a cupful of chopped walnut meats, four cupsful of bread crumbs, one hard cooked egg chopped, one beaten egg, one chopped onion, salt and sage to taste with sufficient milk, stock or water to moisten. Bake until brown. Serve either hot or cold.

Cheese Fingers.—Beat the whites of two eggs until stiff, then fold in lightly a cupful of grated cheese. Season to taste with salt and cayenne, spread on long crackers and brown in the oven. Serve hot or cold with the salad course.

Black satin and Venetian silver lace are a fine combination.

Esopus, Aug. 8.—Harold Lyons returned from his visit to Walden and Orange Lake on Monday.

Rev. William H. Austin made a "giving" trip through Esopus on Thursday of last week. He was with friends who motored from Kenosha Lake to Ulster. They only stopped a few minutes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ganoung.

The "Bloomer Girls," who have been enjoying an outing at Overlook Camp at Twin Lakes, Elizaville, N. Y., returned to their various homes

Unprecedented Conditions Compel Us to Raise Rates

For the first time in the history of this company we find it necessary to notify our customers that we shall be obliged to raise our rates for Gas.

We feel certain that our customers will accept a slight advance in full appreciation of the circumstances which necessitated it.

For the past year operating expenses have steadily gone up, as indicated in the above chart, until today they are 3.5 per cent higher than they were a year ago and 45 per cent more than they were on July 1, 1916.

We find it absolutely impossible in this business, as it would be in any other, to maintain solvency with expenses increasing far more rapidly, than revenue.

Wilson's View

President Wilson has recognized the emergency. In a letter to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo regarding public utilities he has expressed himself in part as follows: "I hope the state and local authorities, where they have not already done so, will, when the facts are properly laid before them, responded properly to the necessities of the situation."

We hope that the words of the President will also be accepted by our customers.

It is our desire to continue unimpaired our Good Gas Service at the lowest rates consistent with the present situation.

Coal Bill Increased

In this same period our net revenue has, as a natural consequence, suffered one setback after another, despite increased volume of business until today the very operation of this company is threatened by the seriousness of the situation.

In the single item of coal alone, our present cost of coal per ton amounts to $5.74, as compared with only $3.42 in 1916, an increase of $2.32 per ton.

Gas Oil Increased

Gas oil which used to be purchased for 3 1/2c per

on Monday of this week. The party consisted of the Misses Hazel Mott of Esopus, Alice and Ethel Gallagher, Lucetta Fraleigh, Violet Trepp, Pearl Burnett, Ruth Clum and Flora Rider of Red Hook, Constance Reator, Irene Weisner of Hudson and Adelaide Gallagher of Oneonta. They were chaperoned by Mrs. LeRoy Teator of Rhinebeck. Among the sports indulged in were swimming, canoeing and fishing. The girls held a dance at Ellerslie Hall, Elizaville, which was largely attended, also a party on Friday last. They broke camp with much regret on Monday, but, of course, all good things must come to a close and we prophesy a repetition of the experience for the girls next year. The installation of officers of the Kingston Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star of America took place at Elmore Hall in this village on Tuesday evening of this week. Following is the list: President, John P. Ganoung, vice president, Calvin Cole; master of forms, Percy Acker; conductor, Marshal Hasbrouck; guard, Jack Fenwick; inspector, Charles Palen. A large delegation from Kingston attended. Part of the Clinton Commandery were in uniform. Lawyer Merritt was one of the visitors and addressed the gathering. Also a number of others responded to the call for "speech," and this part of the program was much enjoyed. Refreshments home society. Later refreshments were served and it is needless to say that these were thoroughly appreciated by all present. The Misses Eleanor and Fannie Forester of Hobart, N. Y., are guests of their aunt, Mrs. J. P. Ganoung.

COXSACKIE FARMER DIES FROM POISON

E. J. Gerstenberg Becomes Fatally Ill From Drinking Home Made Root Beer—Contents of Stomach to Be Analyzed.

Emil J. Gerstenberg, a farmer living four miles north of Cocksackie, died Thursday noon as the result of convulsions suffered after drinking a bottle of home made root beer. Coroner I. E. Van Hoesen of Cocksackie, has pronounced death due to poisoning but reserved decision on the case until the nature of the poison can be established.

Gerstenberg, who lived with his two children on his farm, just south of the Rocky Stores road, on the Cocksackie-Albany state road, was having in the field Thursday morning with his brother, Richard. At 11 o'clock his son, Lester, eleven years old, started for the house to make his father some root beer, which he did daily. The father, who was too near dinner time, but the boy insisted and went to the house, making the root beer and giving it to his sister, Gertrude, to take to the two men in the field.

After drinking the beer, the father complained that it tasted bitter and a short time afterward, he started for the house. Immediately on arriving home, he was taken ill and convulsions followed. Dr. Van Hoesen was sent for and arrived at 11:45, when the man was having another convulsion from which he failed to recover.

While it looked to Dr. Van Hoesen like a case of strychnine poisoning, he sent for a representative from the Bender laboratory, who, after examining the body, performed an autopsy, taking the contents of the stomach, and the bottle, took it to Albany for analysis. The coroner will await the results of the analysis before taking further action.

The story that the boy tells, according to Dr. Van Hoesen is that he found the two bottles, in which he made the root beer, alongside of the road a few days ago, and carried them home. When he went to make the root beer, he told the coroner, the bottles which he usually used, had disappeared from the front porch where he had placed them, so he used the two bottles which he had found.

The boy said he had noticed a white substance in the bottom of one of the bottles, but that he had thought it was sugar. Coroner Van Hoesen asked the boy if he had told his sister which bottle was for the father, but he insisted he did not. District Attorney Harry McK. Curtis of Cocksackie was notified and questioned the children. He said last night that until he had heard the results of the autopsy, at least, no action would be taken.

Mrs. Gerstenberg, the mother of the children, it was said last night, had left her husband some time ago following a shooting fracas in the home, when two shots were fired at her and her assailant could not be located.

The KITCHEN CABINET

When the wild plum blossoms in the lane
'Tis time for dulcet laughter and refrain,
Time for airy fairy dreamings whispered low
By the woodland pixy people as we go,
Time to loiter and make glad among the flowers
Oh, it is a heartsome place, this world of ours.

DISHES DAINTY AND APPETIZING.

Hot fried sardines served on a bed of water cream make a nice way of serving these small tidbits.

Celery and nuts chopped fine and mixed with a little salad dressing make a good sandwich filling.

Chopped apples, a few nuts and a chopped green pepper make a most delicious salad combination; serve with mayonnaise.

Cheese and Tomatoes.—Cut round slices of bread, toast brown and on each round place a slice of tomato, sprinkle with a little minced onion and green pepper, a dash of cayenne and a thick layer of grated cheese. Put into the broiler and set under the gas flame until the cheese melts. Serve piping hot.

Peanut Butter With Rice.—Take two cupsful of well cooked rice; while hot, stir in a cupful of peanut butter, a cupful of cracker crumbs, a half cupful of milk, two beaten eggs and salt and paprika to taste. Shape in a round loaf and place in a well buttered pan; bake a nice brown and serve hot with parsley.

Walnut Loaf.—Take a cupful of chopped walnut meats, four cupsful of bread crumbs, one hard cooked egg chopped, one beaten egg, one chopped onion, salt and sage to taste with sufficient milk, stock or water to moisten. Bake until brown. Serve either hot or cold.

Cheese Fingers.—Beat the whites of two eggs until stiff, then fold in lightly a cupful of grated cheese. Season to taste with salt and cayenne, spread on long crackers and brown in the oven. Serve hot or cold with the salad course.

Baked Tomatoes With Peas.—Take small sized tomatoes; do not peel; remove some of the center and fill with seasoned peas. Put into a baking dish and bake with butter and water or a rich soup stock. Keep covered the first part of the cooking.

Black satin and Venetian silver lace are a fine combination.

TO ENTRAIN AUGUST 15.

Six Men Who Volunteered Under Special Calls Are Accepted.

Local board for Division 1 of Ulster county, has received word from the adjutant general's office that six of the nine men who volunteered under special calls 1086 and 1107 have been accepted. The board was ordered to see that these men entrained August 15.

The men will be given a special course of mechanical training at the government's expense. Three of the men will go to Clarkson Institute, Potsdam, N. Y.; the other three will go to Cornell College, Ithaca, N. Y. The names of the men to go will be announced later.

BEARVILLE.

Bearsville, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Harvey Short of Wittenberg, spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. F. G. Shultis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Hare of Poughkeepsie, spent the week end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shultis.

Mrs. Arthur Shultis and children motored to Saugerties Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Shultis and Mrs. Almina Shultis of Wittenberg, also Miss Dorothy Brown and Francis Baker of Tarrytown, called at the home of Foster Shultis last Friday evening.

Mrs. Ira B. Hare of Poughkeepsie, called on Miss Edythe Shultis Sunday morning.

Remember the Red Cross meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Lasher spent Tuesday in Willow.

Mrs. Edward Harder and daughter, Natalie, of Brooklyn, were entertained at the home of Mrs. Conrad Lasher Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Shultis spent a few days this week with her daughter, Mrs. Ira B. Hare of Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lasher were Kingston visitors Monday.

Mrs. Mary J. Shultis called on Mrs. James A. Shultis of May Brook, who is staying at her parents home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harder spent Sunday out of town.

Ishmael Rose spent Monday in Kingston.

Miss Hazel Shultis of this place and cousin, Frances Baker of Tarrytown, also Miss Alberta Shultis of Wittenberg, enjoyed a hike to the "Overlook" Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Shultis was entertained at the home of Mrs. F. G. Shultis last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shultis and son, Harold, of this place, also Mrs. J. V. Davis and daughter, Estella, of New Jersey, motored to Ashokan Sunday.

Mrs. Paul Crauso and daughter of Mansfield, Mass., and Mrs. P. Bates of Jersey City, are spending an indefinite time in Mrs. Almina Shultis's home.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, Aug. 8.—Harold Lyons returned from his visit to Walden and Orange Lake on Monday.

Rev. William H. Austin made a "flying" trip through Esopus on Thursday of last week. He was with friends who motored from Kenosha Lake to Ulster Park and only stopped a few minutes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ganoung.

The party returned to Kenosha Lake by way of Newburgh.

on Monday of this week. The party consisted of the Misses Hazel Mott of Esopus, Alice and Ethel Gallagher, Lucetta Fraleigh, Violet Trepp, Pearl Burnett, Ruth Clum and Flora Rider of Red Hook, Constance Teator, Irene Welster of Hudson and Adelaide Gallagher of Oneonta. They were chaperoned by Mrs. LeRoy Teator of Rhinebeck.

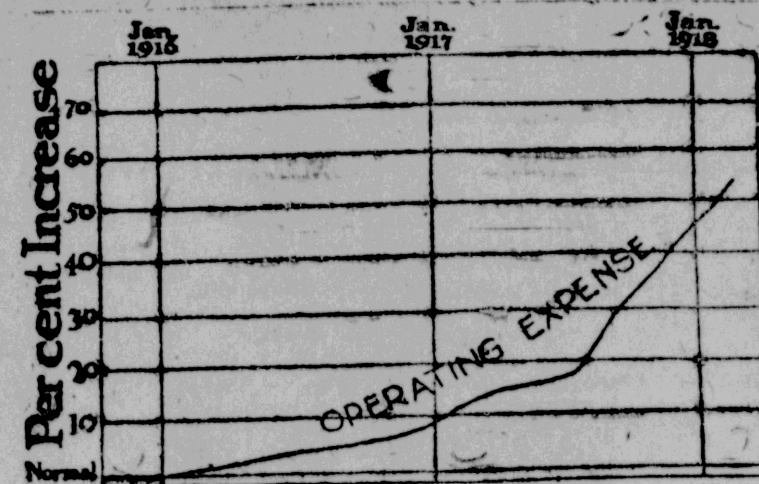

Among the sports indulged in were swimming, canoeing and fishing. The girls held a dance at Elizaville Hall, Elizaville, which was largely attended, also a party on Friday last. They broke camp with much regret on Monday, but, of course, all good things must come to a close and we prophesy a repetition of the experience for the girls next year.

The installation of officers of the Patriotic Order Sons of America took place at Elmore Hall in this village on Tuesday evening of this week. Following is the list. President, Calvin Cole; master of forms, Percy Acker; conductor, Marshal Hasbrouck; guard, Jack Fenwick; inspector, Charles Palen. A large delegation from Kingston attended. Part of the Clinton Commandery were in uniform. Lawyer Merritt was one of the visitors and addressed the gathering. Also a number of others responded to the call for "speech," and this part of the program was much enjoyed by the home society. Later refreshments were served and it is needless to say that these were thoroughly appreciated by all present.

The Misses Eleanor and Fannie Pogree of Hobart, N. Y., are guests of their aunt, Mrs. J. P. Ganoung.

Unprecedented Conditions Compel Us to Raise Rates

For the first time in the history of this company we find it necessary to notify our customers that we shall be obliged to raise our rates for Gas.

The new rates are merely temporary to enable us to tide over the present emergency.

We feel certain that our customers will accept a slight advance in full appreciation of the circumstances which necessitated it.

For the past year operating expenses have steadily gone up, as indicated in the above chart, until today they are 39 per cent higher than they were a year ago and 45 per cent more than they were on July 1, 1916.

Coal Bill Increased

In this same period our net revenue has, as a natural consequence, suffered one setback after another, despite increased volume of business until today the very operation of this company is threatened by the seriousness of the situation.

In the single item of coal alone, our present cost of coal per ton amounts to $5.74, as compared with only $3.42 in 1916, an increase of $2.32 per ton.

Gas Oil Increased

Gas oil which used to be purchased for 3 1/2c per gallon now costs 9c per gallon, an increase of 5 1/2c per gallon which is equivalent to about 20c on every thousand feet of water gas.

We find it absolutely impossible in this business, as it would be in any other, to maintain solvency with expenses increasing far more rapidly, than revenue.

Wilson's View

President Wilson has recognized the emergency. In a letter to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo regarding public utilities he has expressed himself in part as follows: "I hope the state and local authorities, where they have not already done so, will, when the facts are properly laid before them, responded properly to the necessities of the situation."

We hope that the words of the President will also be accepted by our customers.

It is our desire to continue unimpaired our Good Gas Service at the lowest rates consistent with the present situation.

RED CROSS BENEFIT.

By New York Y. M. C. A. Boys at Rosendale.

About 136 members of the Y. M. C. A. from the West Side of New York city, who are summering at Greentown Camp, along the Rine-water lakes, linked over to Rosendale a few night ago, with their manager and assistants. While there Andrew W. Smith, the general proprietor of the Casino, gave them the use of the commodious hall, where the boys gave an impromptu entertainment for the benefit of the Red Cross Auxiliary of Rosendale. Mrs. C. V. Hargreaves, the chairman, presided, who had attracted a crowd of spectators. The program of songs, vocal and instrumental, humorous songs, acrobatic feats, etc., popular songs and choruses by the boys, were heartily greeted by all present and thoroughly appreciated.

A free will offering amounting to $18.20 was dropped in the hats for the Red Cross for which we are thankful. The boys are well trained under good discipline, in the care of an efficient manager. Visitors are allowed in the camp on Saturdays and Sundays.

Breweries in Dry State.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 9.—"Dime dry" conditions have not seriously impaired the values of the five brewery plants of Omaha. Despite the fact that the state is dry, they are earning a comfortable return on their investment by the manufacture of non-intoxicating beverages. The breweries are all meeting with a popular sale. Not quite the number of men employed in former times are employed under the new regime.

U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE HOW TO CAN TOMATO SAUCE OR PUREE

If a more economical utilization of space within the jar is desired, a more concentrated mixture of tomatoes can be packed. This also provides for the use of small or broken tomatoes and large tomatoes unsuited for canning.

Cut the tomatoes and add one large-sized onion chopped and one cupful of chopped sweet red pepper to each gallon of cut tomatoes. Cook until tender, put through a sieve and add a third teaspoonful of salt and two-thirds teaspoonful of sugar (mixed) to each quart of pulp. Cook to the consistency of ketchup, stirring constantly. Pack hot in boiled jars and process as for tomatoes.—United States Department of Agriculture.

Buffon Had Wrong Idea.

It was Buffon's idea that all the forms of animal and plant life common to the two continents were introduced here after the discovery by Europeans. The idea was naturally suggested by the rapidly with which this continent was peopled and stocked with domestic animals and cultivated plants. The teaching from Buffon's day until twenty or twenty-five years ago was to the same effect. Since then, however, the evidence has been found to prove this view to be not only false, but directly the reverse of what has been the real order of succession.

Combined Effort.

The great artist who paints a picture which compels the admiration of the world does not do so with one sweep of the brush in one moment of inspiration. The great masterpiece is the product of thousands of strokes of the brush, of infinitesimal bits of pigment put on the canvas after layer, each done with consummate art. Every tiny bit of paint, every swift stroke does its tiny part toward what becomes at last a marvel of ages. So must we work, stroke by stroke, bit here and a bit there, until our masterpiece has been completed.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

"Along the seashore," said Daddy, "was a row of very queer-looking objects."

"They were sport fish, not real, alive fish, but sport fish, made out of rubber and covered with oil cloth. Their faces were painted with eyes like the fish have. They had painted fins and painted bodies. In fact they were very gay in color and were all ready to go in the water."

"Have you never been here before?" asked the sport fish painted blue and yellow.

"Oh dear," said the red sport fish, "when is that going to happen? I'd hate to be blown up. It sounds quite too awful for words. Quite too awful, I'm dreadfully afraid. Oh, why did you tell me this? Was it to warn me that danger is near? Will it happen today? When will it happen? Oh, I am so frightened!"

"My dear sport fish, calm yourself, calm yourself."

"It's all very well for you to talk about calming myself. It's a very fine thing to be calm when another creature is going to be blown up. Very fine indeed!"

"But if you think I am looking forward to being blown up, you're very much mistaken, very much mistaken. In fact I am dreading it with every bit of my queer-shaped body. It makes me sad, it makes me mad!"

"You made a rhyme there," said the blue and yellow sport fish, "and that shows you're not so unhappy. We don't make rhymes when we are sad and you know."

"I didn't mean to make a rhyme," said the red sport fish. "You shouldn't tease me so. I didn't really and truly mean to make that rhyme. It just came out of its own accord."

"Then," said the blue and yellow sport fish, "I admire you all the more."

"What Fun It Is to Be a Sport Fish!"

You are a real poet. Rhymes just drop from you, or fall from you, whichever you prefer."

"I don't prefer either way," said the red fish, without thinking much just what he was saying. "I'm nervous, that's all I know."

"You shouldn't be nervous when you are such a poet," said the blue and yellow sport fish.

"I don't care about being a poet," said the red sport fish.

"Then you have no right to make rhymes without thinking or even without thinking. For you must be a poet if you do that. And if you don't wish to be a poet it is particularly unfortunate when I consider how quickly and without even a thought you can make up a rhyme."

"There are many, many poets who sit before their desks, as you sit before your desk, the ocean. They bite the ends of their pens or pencils—you can't do that because you haven't any pens or pencils—and they talk about a great idea which is coming to them and they wait and wait for that idea. And what do you think? The idea doesn't come at all, or when it does come it's been such a long time coming that it's pretty well worn out when it gets there. And an idea for a poet means a rhyme. So you're a poet without any effort and that is very fine."

"It won't do me any good if I am going to be blown up."

"You are already blown up."

"I'm blown up now, without knowing it?" asked the red sport fish.

"Of course," said the blue and yellow sport fish, "but you wouldn't give me a chance to tell you so. You became so excited. We're made for the amusement of the swimmers and also for those who can't swim, for we stay on top of the water. We're like life-savers too!"

"Oh, then I'm glad I'm a sport fish."

And all the sport fishes on the beach looked at each other out of their painted eyes and said, "We're going to have such fun riding over the breakers with the people on our backs. We'll jump them and ride them, and the breakers will laugh, and the people will laugh too. Oh, what fun it is to be a sport fish!"

"I'm glad I'm a sport fish," said the red sport fish a few minutes later when it had been taken for a wonderful ride over the breakers by a modern mermaid in a beautiful purple bathing suit."

RED CROSS BENEFIT.

By New York Y. M. C. A. Boys at Rosendale.

About 136 members of the Y. M. C. A. from the West Side of New York city, who are summering at Greenkill Camp, along the Blinnwater lakes, hiked over to Rosendale a few nights ago, with their manager and assistants. While there Andrew St. Smith, the genial proprietor of the Casino, gave them the use of the commodious hall, where the boys gave an impromptu entertainment for the benefit of the Red Cross Auxiliary of Rosendale. Mrs. C. V. Hargreaves, the chairman, extended a hearty welcome to the visitors, who had attracted a crowd of spectators. The program of solos, vocal and instrumental, humorous skits, acrobatic feats, etc., popular songs, and chorus by the boys were heartily greeted by all present and thoroughly appreciated.

A free will offering amounting to $18.20 was dropped in the hats for the Red Cross for which we are thankful. The boys enjoy outdoor life, are hale and hearty, well trained under good discipline, in the care of an efficient manager. Visitors are allowed at the camp on Saturdays and Sundays.

Breweries in Dry State.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 9.—"Bone dry" conditions have not seriously impaired the values of the five brewery plants of Omaha. Despite the fact that the state is dry, they are earning a comfortable return on their investment by the manufacture of non-intoxicating beverages. The beverages are all meeting with a popular sale. Not quite the number of men employed in former times are employed under the new regime.

The strength shown in the early dealings became more pronounced in the late forenoon. Steel Common was heavily traded in, moving up  $\frac{1}{4}$  to 111 $\frac{1}{2}$ . Baldwin was one point higher at 94 $\frac{1}{2}$  and Tobacco Products continued to reflect accumulation moving up  $\frac{1}{4}$  to 71 $\frac{1}{2}$ . The St. Paul issues were strong, the common advancing  $\frac{1}{4}$  to 45 $\frac{1}{2}$ , while the preferred rose  $\frac{1}{4}$  to 76. Reading showed renewed activity, moving up  $\frac{1}{4}$  to 89 $\frac{1}{2}$  and Union Pacific showed the same amount of gain to 122 $\frac{1}{2}$ . Liberty 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ s sold at 100.02 for the first time this year.

The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE

HOW TO CAN

TOMATO SAUCE OR PUREE

If a more economical utilization of space within the jar is desired, a more concentrated mixture of tomatoes can be packed. This also provides for the use of small or broken tomatoes and large tomatoes unsuited for canning.

Cut the tomatoes and add one large-sized onion chopped and one cupful of chopped sweet red pepper to each gallon of cut tomatoes. Cook until tender, put through a sieve and add a third teaspoonful of salt and two-thirds teaspoonful of sugar (mixed) to each quart of pulp. Cook to the consistency of ketchup, stirring constantly. Pack hot in boiled jars and process as for tomatoes. United States Department of Agriculture.

Buffon Had Wrong Idea.

It was Buffon's idea that all the forms of animal and plant life common to the two continents were introduced here after the discovery by Europeans. The idea was naturally suggested by the rapidity with which this continent was peopled and stocked with domestic animals and cultivated plants. The teaching from Buffon's day until twenty or twenty-five years ago was to the same effect. Since then, however, the evidence has been found to prove this view to be not only false, but directly the reverse of what has been the real order of succession.

Combined Effort.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

THE SPORT FISHES.

"Along the seashore," said Daddy, "was a row of very queer-looking objects."

"They were sport fish, not real, alive fish, but sport fish, made out of rubber and covered with oil cloth. Their faces were painted with eyes like the fish have. They had painted fins and painted bodies. In fact they were very gay in color and were all ready to go in the water."

"I say," remarked one sport fish, painted mostly in red, "what do you think we'll do today?"

"Have you never been here before?" asked the sport fish painted blue and yellow.

"Never," said the red sport fish.

"Oh dear," said the red sport fish, "when is that going to happen? I'd hate to be blown up. It sounds quite too awful for words. Quite too awful, I tell me this! Was it to warn me that danger is near? Will it happen today? When will it happen? Oh, I am so frightened!"

"My dear sport fish, calm yourself, calm yourself."

"It's all very well for you to talk about calming myself. It's a very fine thing to be calm when another creature is going to be blown up. Very fine indeed!"

"But if you think I am looking forward to being blown up, you're very much mistaken, very much mistaken. In fact I am dreading it with every bit of my queer-shaped body. It makes me sad, it makes me mad!"

"You made a rhyme there," said the blue and yellow sport fish, "and that shows you're not so unhappy. We don't make rhymes when we are sad you know."

"I didn't mean to make a rhyme," said the red sport fish. "You shouldn't tease me so. I didn't really and truly mean to make that rhyme. It just came out of its own accord."

"Then," said the blue and yellow sport fish, "I admire you all the more."

"What Fun It Is to Be a Sport Fish!"

You are a real poet. Rhymes just drop from you, or fall from you, whichever you prefer."

"I don't prefer either way," said the red fish, without thinking much just what he was saying. "I'm nervous, that's all I know."

"You shouldn't be nervous when you are such a poet," said the blue and yellow sport fish.

"I don't care about being a poet," said the red sport fish.

"Then you have no right to make rhymes without thinking or even with thinking. For you must be a poet if you do that. And if you don't wish to be a poet it is particularly unfortunate when I consider how quickly and without even a thought you can make up a rhyme."

FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1918.

Sun rises, 5:59; sets, 8:11.

Weather, cloudy.

The Temperature.

The lowest point registered by the Freeman thermometer last night was 80 degrees. The highest point reached up until noon today was 85 degrees.

Weather Forecast.

DR. J. F. LARKIN
IN MEDICAL CORPS

Dr. John F. Larkin of Stuyvesant street, has applied for a commission in the Medical Reserve Corps. He has been examined and expects shortly to receive his commission, and be called into active service. Dr. Larkin is one of the attending surgeons at the Benedictine Sanitarium, and is well known as a physician and surgeon.

Auto Stumping Tours.

Albany, Aug. 9.—Even the political campaign must undergo change because of war conditions. From time immemorial state-wide campaign tours have been made by special trains. It was always regarded as the quickest and best means of reaching remote voters. This year appears to the electorate will not be made from the rear of a Pullman. Automobiles will have to be used if tours are made because it is unlikely that Director-General of Railroad, McAdoo will permit special trains to be run.

Boilermakers Wanted.

Enlistments of boilermakers for the regular navy, (duration of the war) are specially needed. The present war pay is $77.50 per month. In addition to your salary you are privileged to make special allotments to your dependents, which is paid by the government, and also subscribe for insurance which the navy offers at a very low rate. Age limits 21 to 35 years. Apply at any recruiting station.

Rain Fails to Arrive.

"My kingdom for some rain," was the remark made this morning by a local man. It looked for a time this morning as if the weather man would hand out some refreshing rain but it did not materialize. After the excessive heat of this present hot wave it would not be surprising if it is followed by heavy thunder showers.

As was usual with the Masonic Lodges of the city, Kingston Lodge, No. 10, P. & A. M., suspended work during the summer months. Owing to the great amount of work that must be performed by the lodge, due to the war conditions, it has been thought advisable to resume the regular communications. A special communication has been called for Tuesday evening, August 13th, in the lodge rooms for the purpose of determining whether or not the regular communications will be resumed. At this special communication applications for initiation and membership will be received.

Guard Soldier's Home.

Nashville, Ind., Aug. 8.—Residents of Brown county are on picket duty at the farm of Artie Moore, who is serving with the American army in France. Several large poplar trees, which the young man intended using for building purposes when he returned from France, have been cut down and hauled away by thieves recently. The soldier's mother, who is an invalid, resides on the farm and the thieves were unhampered in their work.

Origin of Pawnbroker's Sign.

An effort was recently made to learn from the users the origin and significance of the universal sign—the inevitable and universal three balls. Pawnbrokers didn't know, but the fact is the device is an ancient Jewish symbol of money, a Hebrew dollar sign. It is taken from the design of the Jewish shekel in circulation a century or so before the Christian era. This coin bore the formalized design of three connecting branches, from a single stem, each bearing a pomegranate. The similarity to mine uncle's gilded decoration is very apparent.—Detroit News.

Rogation Days.

Though Rogationtide is not specially observed now in England in the manner it used to be, when processions went up and down the streets, in some parts the old ceremonies survive. Here and there in Suffolk, for instance, one finds on Rogation days the clergy, choir, and congregation going in procession through the fields, singing psalms, and halting in certain places for prayer and intercession for the crops. The meaning of Rogation days is days of intercession for protection from calamity and for a good and bountiful harvest.

FARM POULTRY

UTILITY OF VARIOUS BREEDS

Wyandotte is Early Maturing, and Boiling Well Meated is Not Difficult to Fatten.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The common classification of breeds according to their places in the general scheme of poultry production divides them into three principal classes, laying breeds, meat breeds and general-purpose breeds—that is, breeds that are not as ready and persistent egg producers as the laying breeds, and not as meaty and as easy to fatten as the meat breeds, yet combine in one individual fowl very good laying capacity with very good table quality.

The Leghorn, Minorca, Andalusian.

Ancona and Campine are well-known breeds of the laying class; the Brahma, Dorking and Cornish of the meat class; the Plymouth Rock, Wyandotte, Rhode Island Red and Orpington of the general-purpose class.

The breeds mentioned as of the laying class, with the exception of the Minorca, are relatively small, very energetic and lively, mature early, and are easily kept in good laying condition. The Minorca is of larger size and modified somewhat in the other particulars mentioned, yet has more the character of the laying class than of any other.

In the meat breeds, there is not the same uniformity of type that is found in the laying breeds. The three mentioned differ decidedly. The Brahma is most popular because it is at the same time the largest and the most rugged in constitution. The Dorking excels in quality of meat, but is generally considered somewhat lacking in hardiness. The Cornish is rather hard-headed, but, being very short-feathered, has its special place as a large meat-producing fowl in Southern sections where the more heavily feathered Brahma does not stand the summer well.

Among the popular breeds of the general-purpose class there are also differences in type, adapting breeds to different uses. The Plymouth Rock is generally regarded as the type meeting the widest range of requirements in the general-purpose class.

The Wyandotte is a little smaller and earlier maturing, but still very well meated and easy to fatten. The Rhode Island Red has nearly the same standards of weight as the Wyandotte, but is a more active bird, not putting on fat so readily. Consequently it approaches the laying type and is popular with those who want eggs and meat but want eggs most.

The Orpington is at the other extreme in the general-purpose class being a heavier, meatier fowl than the Plymouth Rock.

Such a list of breeds affords so wide a range of choice that poultry keepers can always select a standard breed better adapted to their locality and their purpose than any nonstandard stock they can procure and having the further advantage of producing true to type.

DRY LITTER FOR SCRATCHING

Damp Material Is Practically Useless—Clean It Out and Renew It at Frequent Intervals.

Straw and similar material gathers moisture and when the litter becomes damp enough to be limp it is practically useless for fowls to scratch in for their grain feed. Scratching litter in the poultry house is essential, but it should be cleaned out and renewed frequently.

Necessary for Large Flocks.

Save the Eyes.
In this day of intense driving of the human mechanism anything that adds to its efficiency is greatly desirable. The care of the eyes is one of the greatest necessities. Eyes that are very troublesome should be thoroughly examined by a competent oculist. If one is doing a great deal of studying where much scratch paper is used a great amount of the strain upon the eyes may be removed by the use of yellow paper. Also a yellow or green thickness of tissue paper tied around the light bulb will give great relief. Save the eyes to the utmost. It pays in large returns.

The term "omnibus bill" was applied to a series of measures passed through congress in 1850, largely through the influence of Henry Clay, intended as a sort of compromise on the slavery question. The chief provisions were the admission of California as a free state to the Union, the organization of the territories of Utah and New Mexico, without restrictions on slavery; the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia and a fugitive slave law. Debate in the senate on these propositions lasted about two months, and was participated in by many of the leading men then in congress, as Clay, Webster, Calhoun, Seward, Chase, Douglas and others.

Camera Detects Bad Eggs.

Bad eggs are unfailingly detected by the camera. This has been demonstrated in France, where experiments are being conducted with a photographic egg-testing apparatus, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The idea of utilizing the camera instead of the human eye for candling is a new one.

So far it has not been carried past its laboratory stage, but even though its obstacles prevent its commercial utilization at present, it is of more than passing interest. Eggs are held in a half dozen oval holes provided in a metal plate. Their large ends point toward a common center. While intense light is passed through them, they are photographed. A powerful lens is used and an exposure ranging upward to three minutes is made. The result is a picture that shows the size of the air chambers in the eggs.

Portugal's Many Holidays.

Christmas day is not so generally observed as New Year's day. It has, moreover, only three different dates. The only country whose holidays reveal little of its political, racial or religious origin is Portugal. This is its calendar: January 1, dedicated to universal brotherhood; January 31, dedicated to the memory of all those who fought and died to establish the republic of Portugal; May 3, in memory of the discovery of Brazil by the Portuguese; June 10, municipal holiday at Lisbon; June 24, municipal holiday at Oporto; October 5, the date of the establishment of the Portuguese republic; December 1, flag day, to commemorate the independence of the country; December 25, family day.

Auto Stumping Tours.

Albany, Aug. 9.—Even the political campaign must undergo change because of war conditions. From time immemorial state-wide campaign tours have been made by special trains. It was always regarded as the quickest and best means of reaching remote voters. This year appeals to the electorate will not be made from the rear of a Pullman. Automobiles will have to be used if tours are made because it is unlikely that Director-General of Railroads McAdoo will permit special trains to be run.

Boilermakers Wanted.

Enlistments of boilermakers for the regular navy, (duration of the war) are specially needed. The present war pay is $77.50 per month. As was usual with the Masonic Lodges of the city, Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., suspended work during the summer months. Owing to the great amount of work that must be performed by the lodge, due to the war conditions, it has been thought advisable to resume the regular communications. A special communication has been called for Tuesday evening, August 13th, in the lodge rooms for the purpose of determining whether or not the regular communications will be resumed. At this special communication applications for initiation and membership will be received.

Guard Soldier's Home.

Nashville, Ind., Aug. 8.—Residents of Brown county are on picket duty at the farm of Artie Moore, who is serving with the American army in France. Several large poplar trees, which the young man intended using for building purposes when he returned from France, have been cut down and hauled away by thieves recently. The soldier's mother, who is an invalid, resides on the farm and the thieves were unhampered in their work.
